PREFACE

This volume contains basic characteristics of the gainfully occupied and wage-earner population as reported at the Census of the Prairie Provinces, taken as at June 1, 1946. In general, the arrangement of the data in this volume is similar to that followed in Volume II of the 1936 Census of the Prairie Provinces, with the exception that statistics relating to a) Buildings, Dwellings, and Households and b) Families have been omitted from this volume and included with Housing statistics to form Volume III. Thus all material concerning each of the three Prairie Provinces is again presented together and arranged, within the provincial section of the volume, under two headings, viz., a) Gainfully Occupied and b) Wage-earners. In addition, the "Wage-earners" section is subdivided into a) Earnings and Employment and b) Unemployment. In this way statistics dealing with broad subject matter are brought together for convenient use while systematic arrangement by geographic areas, occupation, industry, etc., as best suits the presentation, is followed within each division and subdivision concerned.

The gainfully occupied population is classified according to occupation by sex, age, marital status, years of schooling, industrial status, birthplace, mother tongue, and place of residence on June 1, 1941, for the province as a whole and according to occupation or occupation group by some of the more important characteristics mentioned above for urban centres of 1,000 population and over, social areas in cities of 30,000 population and over, and census divisions, rural and urban. Corresponding information is given by industry and industry groups.

The wage-earners are classified according to occupation and according to industry by sex, amount of earnings and weeks of employment during the 12 months prior to the census date June 1, 1946, and by cause for not being at work on May 31, 1946, for geographic areas which are generally the same as those used for the gainfully occupied. In addition, several tables show the number of wage-earners by sex and amount of earnings for the 12 months prior to the census date cross-classified by age, marital status, years of schooling, birthplace, mother tongue, and weeks of employment for the provinces, cities of 30,000 population and over, and the Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg.

Definitions of terms used in presenting the data as well as explanations relevant to the subject matter, such as occupation and industry classification, comparability of data, etc., are set out in the Introduction, while the appendices include a copy of the 1946 Population Schedule, provincial maps and descriptions of census divisions, and maps of the Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg and social areas in Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon, and the Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg.

The census was taken under the authority of the Statistics Act, 1918, which provides that "a census of population and agriculture of the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta shall be taken by the Bureau of Statistics, under the direction of the Minister, on a date in the month of June in 1926, to be fixed by the Governor-in-Council, and every tenth year thereafter".

The history and purpose of the Canadian Census, together with the methods of collecting, checking, and compiling the data, are described in full detail in the Administrative Report of the Dominion Statistician on the taking of the census, which appears as a separate publication in connection with the Eighth Decennial Census of Canada, taken in 1941. See also Introduction to Volume I, 1946 Census.

The organization and general planning of this volume was carried out under the direction of O.A. Lemieux, Director of the Census Division, by A.H. LeNeveu, Chief of the Social Analysis Section and R. Ziola, Statistician in charge of Occupation and Employment Statistics.

HERBERT MARSHALL,
Dominion Statistician.

PRÉFACE

Le présent volume révèle les caractéristiques fondamentales de la population active et des employés à gages telles qu'elles ont été relevées lors du recensement des provinces des Prairies, le 1er juin 1946. La disposition des données est semblable, en général, à celle du volume II du recensement des provinces des Prairies en 1936 sauf que la statistique des a) maisons, logements et ménages et b), des familles a été omise et incorporée à celle du logement qui forme le volume III. Ainsi, toute la matière relative à chacune des trois provinces des Prairies est répétée, et disposée, sous deux rubriques, dans la section réservée à cette province: a) Population active et b) Employés à gages. La section consacrée aux "Employés à gages" est subdivisée en outre sous les deux rubriques: a) Gain et emploi et b) Chômage. De cette façon, la statistique qui porte sur le sujet en général est groupée afin d'en faciliter la consultation, tandis que dans chaque division et subdivision et pour les fins d'une meilleure présentation, la disposition systématique selon les régions géographiques, l'occupation, l'industrie, etc., est adoptée.

La population active est classée selon l'occupation, par sexe, âge, état conjugal, années d'école, situation industrielle, lieu de naissance, langue maternelle et lieu de résidence le 1er juin 1941, pour l'ensemble de la province et selon l'occupation ou le groupe d'occupations par certaines des caractéristiques les plus importantes ci-dessus mentionnées, pour les centres urbains de 1,000 et plus, les zones sociales dans les villes de 30,000 et plus et les divisions de recensement, régions rurales et régions urbaines. Les renseignements correspondants sont donnés par industrie et par groupes d'industries.

Les employés à gages sont classés selon l'occupation et selon l'industrie par sexe, gain et semaines d'emploi au cours des 12 mois antérieurs à la date du recensement, le 1er juin 1946 et, par cause d'absence du travail le 31 mai 1946 pour les régions géographiques. Celles-ci sont en général les mêmes que celles qui sont employées pour la population active. En outre, divers tableaux indiquent, pour les provinces, les villes de 30,000 et plus et la région métropolitaine de Winnipeg, le nombre d'employés à gages selon le sexe et le gain au cours des 12 mois antérieurs à la date du recensement et recoupés par l'âge, l'état conjugal, les années d'école, le lieu de naissance, la langue maternelle et les semaines d'emploi.

Les définitions des termes employés dans la présentation des données de même que les explications relatives au sujet, tels le classement selon l'occupation et l'industrie, la comparabilité des données, etc., sont exposées dans l'Introduction. Aux appendices sont donnés un fac-similé du questionnaire de 1946 sur la population, des cartes des provinces et des descriptions des divisions de recensement, de même que des cartes de la région métropolitaine de Winnipeg et des zones sociales de Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon et de la région métropolitaine de Winnipeg.

Le recensement a été effectué subordonnément à la loi de 1918 qui dit: "au mois de juin 1926, à une date que fixera le gouverneur en son conseil, et, dans la suite, tous les dix ans, le Bureau de la statistique, doit, sous la direction du Ministre, recenser la population et l'agriculture des provinces du Manitoba, de la Saskatchewan et de l'Alberta".

L'historique et l'objet du recensement canadien, de même que les méthodes de réunir, vérifier et calculer les données, sont décrits en détail dans le Rapport administratif du statisticien du Dominion sur le recensement. Ce rapport a été publié séparément à la suite du huitième recensement décennal du Canada en 1941. Voir aussi l'Introduction du volume I, recensement de 1946.

La préparation générale du présent volume a été faite sous la direction de O.A. Lemieux, directeur de la Division du recensement, par A.H. LeNeveu, chef de la Section de l'analyse sociale et R. Ziola, statisticien préposé aux occupations et à l'emploi.

HERBERT MARSHALL,
Statisticien du Dominion.

INTRODUCTION

Contents. — This Volume of the Census of the Prairie Provinces, taken as at June 1, 1946, contains in two sections statistics of the (a) gainfully occupied and (b) wage-earner population, 14 years of age and over. Most of the information presented here has already been released for publication from time to time in bulletin form. However, some of the reports published shortly after the taking of the Census contained preliminary data only. All such material has been revised and is now assembled in this volume in its final form. A more detailed outline of the contents of this volume is given under each of the two headings in the appropriate section of the Introduction under which the data are published while the "Table of Contents" describes briefly the material contained in each table and the "Tabular Index" presents it again in chart form as a convenient reference.

Schedule Used. — The statistics contained in this volume have been derived from the Population Schedule used for the 1946 Census of the Prairie Provinces which was, in the main, much the same as the Population Schedule used for the 1941 Census. The chief difference was in connection with the question concerning the place of residence. In 1946 this question had reference to the place of residence on June 1, 1941, whereas in 1941 it had reference to (a) the length of continuous residence in the present province and the present municipality, and (b) the province or country of last permanent residence for those who had resided for a year or more outside the present province. For further explanation of this question on the 1946 Census Population Schedule see section "Place of Residence on June 1, 1941". In addition, questions regarding year of immigration and ethnic origin were omitted from the 1946 Population Schedule.

Arrangement of Tables. — The tables in this volume are arranged under two main headings according to the following subjects:

- (1) Gainfully Occupied. — The first part of this volume is devoted, in the main, to the classification of the gainfully occupied population, 14 years of age and over, according to demographic and economic characteristics for each province and other geographic units. Table 1 contains historical data as to the numerical and percentage distribution of the gainfully occupied population in each province, by occupation group and sex, covering the period 1911 to 1946. Table 2, on the other hand, shows the economic status, both number and per cent, of the population 14 years of age and over, by age and sex, for provinces, as reported at the 1941 and 1946 Censuses. The occupational subject is dealt with in tables 3 to 12, inclusive. Provincial figures are given in Tables 3, 9 and 10, (13, 19 and 20)*, showing the number of gainfully occupied persons according to sex in each occupation by age, marital status, years of schooling, and industrial status; birthplace and mother tongue; and place of residence on June 1, 1941, respectively. Detailed occupation data, by age, sex and marital status, are given in Table 4 (14) for cities of 30,000 population and over as well as for the Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg while Table 5 (15) shows occupation by sex for urban centres of 10,000 to 30,000 population. Occupation groups are given in Tables 6, 7 and 8 (16, 17 and 18) by sex for urban centres of 1,000 to 10,000 population; social areas in the Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg and cities of 30,000 population and over; and census divisions subdivided as to rural and urban, respectively. Gainfully occupied persons, 14 years of age and over, residing in the same province on June 1, 1941, as on the census date, June 1, 1946, but who were not living in the same home or municipality at both census dates are classified by occupation and sex according to type of locality, i.e., rural farm, rural non-farm, and urban size group, in which they resided on June 1, 1941, and shown in Table 11 (21), for urban centres of

INTRODUCTION

Contenu. — Le présent volume du recensement des provinces des Prairies, effectué le 1er juin 1946, réunit, en deux sections, la statistique de la population âgée de 14 ans et plus (a) active et (b) employée à gages. La majeure partie des renseignements présentés ici ont déjà été publiés sous forme de bulletins dont certains, toutefois, publiés peu de temps après le recensement, ne contenaient que des données provisoires. Toute cette matière a été révisée et réunie dans le présent volume sous sa forme définitive. Un exposé plus détaillé du contenu du présent volume est donné sous chacune des deux rubriques dans la section appropriée de l'Introduction où sont publiées les données; la "Table des matières" donne une courte description de la matière de chacun des tableaux et l'"Index des tableaux" donne cette même matière sous forme de diagrammes afin d'en faciliter la consultation.

Questionnaire. — La statistique contenue dans le présent volume a été tirée du questionnaire de la population du recensement des provinces des Prairies de 1946. Ce questionnaire est à peu près semblable à celui du recensement de 1941. La principale différence entre les deux porte sur la question relative au lieu de résidence. En 1946, cette question avait trait au lieu de résidence le 1er juin 1941, tandis qu'en 1941, elle avait trait (a) à la durée de résidence continue dans la province actuelle et dans la municipalité actuelle et (b), à la province ou au pays de dernière résidence permanente des personnes qui avaient demeuré un an ou plus en dehors de la province actuelle. Pour plus amples explications de cette question, voir la section intitulée "Lieu de résidence le 1er juin 1941". En outre, les questions relatives à l'année d'immigration et à l'origine ethnique ont été omises du questionnaire de la population en 1946.

Disposition des tableaux. — Les tableaux du présent volume ont été disposés sous deux rubriques principales d'après les sujets suivants:

- (1) Population active. — La première partie du présent volume est consacrée principalement au classement de la population active âgée de 14 ans et plus d'après les caractéristiques démographiques et économiques pour chaque province et chaque autre subdivision géographique. Le tableau 1 contient des données historiques sur la répartition numérique et proportionnelle de la population active dans chaque province, selon le groupe d'occupations et le sexe, pour la période de 1911 à 1946. Le tableau 2, d'autre part, donne, numériquement et proportionnellement, la situation pécuniaire de la population de 14 ans et plus, par âge et sexe dans les provinces, telle qu'elle a été relevée aux recensements de 1941 et 1946. Les occupations sont étudiées aux tableaux 3 à 12 inclus. Les chiffres des provinces sont donnés dans les tableaux 3, 9 et 10 (13, 19 et 20)*; ils indiquent respectivement le nombre de personnes actives d'après le sexe dans chaque occupation, par âge, état conjugal, années d'école et situation industrielle; lieu de naissance et langue maternelle; et lieu de résidence le 1er juin 1941. Les données détaillées sur les occupations par âge, sexe et état conjugal sont contenues dans le tableau 4 (14) pour les villes de 30,000 et plus de même que pour la région métropolitaine de Winnipeg, tandis que le tableau 5 (15) donne les occupations par sexe dans les centres urbains de 10,000 à 30,000. Les groupes d'occupations sont donnés respectivement aux tableaux 6, 7 et 8 (16, 17 et 18) par sexe dans les centres urbains de 1,000 à 10,000, les zones sociales de la région métropolitaine de Winnipeg et des villes de 30,000 et plus, et les divisions de recensement subdivisées en régions rurales et en régions urbaines. Les personnes actives de 14 ans et plus qui, le 1er juin 1946, résidaient dans la même province que le 1er juin 1941, mais n'habitaient plus le même logement ou la même municipalité, sont classées par occupation et sexe selon le genre de localité, i.e., rurale agricole, rurale non agricole, centre urbain selon l'importance numérique, où elles demeuraient le 30,000 population and over. Finally, in Table 12, the gainfully occupied are classified according to occupation and sex by industry group for the province.

Statistics dealing with the gainfully occupied population classified by industry for the same geographic areas and shown according to the same characteristics as outlined above for occupations are presented in Tables 13 to 21. The number of the table setting forth the data by industry corresponding to the information by occupation is given in brackets after the respective occupation table numbers in the paragraph above.

- (2) Wage-earners. — The second part of this volume deals with statistics relevant to the wage-earners, i.e., that sector of the gainfully occupied population working for salary, wages, commission, or piece-rate forms of payment. The wage-earners are classified in this part under two separate headings, i.e., (a) Earnings and Employment and (b) Unemployment.

(a) Wage-earners by Earnings and Employment. — Tables 22 to 38 deal with earnings and employment data of wage-earners classified as to demographic and economic characteristics. Historical data, covering the period 1911 to 1946, are given in Table 22 which shows the number of wage-earners, total and average earnings, and total and average weeks employed during the 12 months prior to the census date, for the provinces. Table 23 presents similar information for urban centres of 1,000 population and over as reported at the 1946 Census. All subsequent tables, in addition to Table 23, under this sub-heading deal with wage-earner statistics compiled from the 1946 Census. Figures for census divisions subdivided as to rural and urban; urban centres of 1,000 population and over; and social areas in cities of 30,000 population and over (including the Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg) are given by sex in Tables 24, 25 and 26, respectively, and show, for each area, the average earnings and weeks employed as well as the number of wage-earners by amount of earnings and weeks of employment. Wage-earners are classified in Tables 27 and 28 by occupation and sex to show average earnings, average weeks employed, and the number of wage-earners by amount of earnings and weeks of employment for the provinces and cities of 30,000 population and over (including the Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg), respectively. Similar information is given by industry in Tables 30 and 31. Wage-earners in cities of 10,000 to 30,000 population are shown in Table 29 classified by occupation and sex according to average earnings and average weeks employed. In Tables 33 to 37, on the other hand, wage-earners are classified by sex and age, marital status, years of schooling, birthplace, and mother tongue, respectively, to show median earnings and the number of wage-earners by amount of earnings for provinces, cities of 30,000 population and over and the Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg. Further information is given for these areas in Tables 32 and 38. Wage-earners are classified in the former table according to weeks of employment and sex to show average earnings, average weeks employed, and amount of earnings and in the latter according to amount of earnings and sex.

(b) Unemployment. — In view of the high level of employment existing everywhere in Canada at the time of the 1946 Census of the Prairie Provinces, the number of persons unemployed because of no job and lay-off was very small. Actually only 19,469 males and 3,141 females were reported as having no job and another 2,288 males and 542 females as being laid-off on May 31, 1946, in the three Prairie Provinces. For that reason only six tables dealing with unemployment have been included in this volume.

Tables 39 and 40 give the number of wage-earners by sex, showing the number not at work on May 31, 1er juin 1941 et sont indiquées au tableau 11 (21) pour les centres urbains de 30,000 et plus. Finalement, le tableau 12 donne, pour la province, la population active classée selon l'occupation et le sexe par groupes d'industries.

Les tableaux 13 à 21 donnent la statistique de la population active classée par industrie pour les mêmes régions géographiques et d'après les mêmes caractéristiques que celles qui sont décrites ci-dessus pour les occupations. Le numéro du tableau qui contient les données par industrie correspondant aux renseignements donnés par occupation est inscrit entre parenthèses, dans le paragraphe précédent, à la suite du numéro de chaque tableau basé sur les occupations.

- (2) Employés à gages. — La deuxième partie du présent volume contient la statistique relative aux employés à gages, i.e., le secteur de la population active qui travaille à salaire, à gages, à commission ou à la pièce. Les employés à gages sont classés dans cette partie sous deux rubriques distinctes, i.e., (a) Gain et emploi et (b) Chômage.

(a) Employés à gages selon le gain et l'emploi. — Les tableaux 22 à 38 traitent du gain et de l'emploi des employés à gages classés d'après leurs caractéristiques démographiques et économiques. Les données historiques, qui embrassent la période de 1911-1946, sont contenues dans le tableau 22, pour les provinces, qui donne le nombre d'employés à gages, le gain total et moyen et le total et la moyenne de semaines d'emploi au cours des 12 mois antérieurs à la date du recensement. Le tableau 23 présente des renseignements analogues pour les centres urbains de 1,000 et plus, tels qu'ils ont été relevés au recensement de 1946. Tous les tableaux qui suivent, en plus du tableau 23, donnent, sous cette rubrique, la statistique des employés à gages calculée d'après le recensement de 1946. Les chiffres des divisions de recensement subdivisées en régions rurales et en régions urbaines, ceux des centres urbains de 1,000 et plus et ceux des zones sociales des cités de 30,000 et plus (y compris la région métropolitaine de Winnipeg) sont donnés respectivement par sexe aux tableaux 24, 25 et 26 et indiquent, pour chaque région, le gain moyen et les semaines d'emploi de même que le nombre d'employés à gages selon le montant du gain et les semaines d'emploi. Aux tableaux 27 et 28, les employés à gages sont classés respectivement par occupation et sexe de manière à indiquer le gain moyen, la moyenne de semaines d'emploi, et le nombre d'employés à gages selon le montant du gain et les semaines d'emploi, pour les provinces et les villes de 30,000 et plus (y compris la région métropolitaine de Winnipeg). Des renseignements semblables sont donnés par industrie aux tableaux 30 et 31. Les employés à gages dans les villes de 10,000 à 30,000 sont donnés au tableau 29; ils sont classés par occupation et sexe d'après le gain moyen et la moyenne de semaines d'emploi. Les tableaux 33 à 37, d'autre part, donnent les employés à gages classés respectivement par sexe et âge, état conjugal, années d'école, lieu de naissance et langue maternelle de manière à indiquer le gain médian et le nombre d'employés à gages selon le montant du gain, pour les provinces, les villes de 30,000 et plus et la région métropolitaine de Winnipeg. D'autres renseignements sont donnés pour ces régions aux tableaux 32 et 38. Les employés à gages sont classés au tableau 32 d'après les semaines d'emploi et le sexe de manière à indiquer le gain moyen, la moyenne de semaines d'emploi et le montant du gain; au tableau 38, ils sont classés d'après le montant du gain et le sexe.

(b) Chômage. — En raison du niveau élevé de l'emploi partout au Canada lors du recensement des provinces des Prairies en 1946, le nombre de personnes en chômage faute d'emploi ou à cause d'un arrêt temporaire est très peu élevé. En réalité, 19,469 hommes et 3,141 femmes seulement déclarent n'avoir pas de travail, tandis que 2,288 hommes et 542 femmes déclarent un arrêt temporaire, le 31 mai 1946, dans les trois provinces des Prairies. Pour cette raison, six tableaux seulement sur le chômage ont été incorporés au présent volume.

Les tableaux 39 et 40 donnent le nombre d'employés à gages par sexe et indiquent respectivement le nombre 1946, by cause, for census divisions, rural and urban, and for urban centres of 1,000 population and over, respectively. Similar information is given for the provinces by occupation groups in Table 41 and by industry groups in Table 43. Finally, the total number of wage-earners, the number at work, and the number unemployed are shown by sex, for the provinces according to occupation in Table 42 and according to industry in Table 44. It should be noted in this connection that the term "unemployed" refers to wage-earners not at work on May 31, 1946, because of no job and lay-off.

de ceux qui n'étaient pas au travail le 31 mai 1946 selon la cause, pour les divisions de recensement, régions rurales et régions urbaines, et pour les centres urbains de 1,000 et plus. Des renseignements semblables sont donnés pour les provinces par groupes d'occupations au tableau 41 et par groupes d'industries au tableau 43. Finalement, le nombre total d'employés à gages, de ceux qui sont au travail et de ceux qui sont en chômage dans les provinces est donné par sexe, d'après l'occupation, au tableau 42, et d'après l'industrie, au tableau 44. Il faut remarquer à ce sujet que le terme "en chômage" désigne les employés à gages qui n'étaient pas au travail le 31 mai 1946 faute d'emploi ou à cause d'un arrêt temporaire.

PARTIE I

Gainfully Occupied

Population active

Gainfully Occupied Concept. — It should be noted that the gainfully occupied concept has been adopted as a means of measuring the economically active population for purpose of the 1946 Census. This is in line with previous census practice. However, in view of the fact that the labour force concept is now being adopted for current surveys of employment, it is necessary, in order to avoid confusion, to show briefly the inherent differences of the two concepts, both of which purport to measure the economically active population.

Concept de la population active. — Il convient de remarquer que, pour les fins du recensement de 1946, le concept de la population active a été adopté comme moyen de mesurer la population économiquement active, ce qui est conforme à la pratique suivie lors des recensements antérieurs. Toutefois, du fait que le concept de la main-d'oeuvre est maintenant adopté pour les fins des enquêtes courantes sur l'emploi, il est nécessaire, afin d'éviter toute confusion, d'indiquer brièvement les différences inhérentes des deux concepts qui visent, l'un et l'autre, à mesurer la population économiquement active.

The number of gainfully occupied, 14 years of age and over, is determined by means of a question or questions concerning the occupations followed by the individuals during the census year, whereas the number of persons in the labour force is determined by means of questions relating to their employment status during a specific period of time, usually the week preceding the survey date. Thus the only persons included in the gainfully occupied group are those reporting a gainful occupation (as defined for census purposes*) irrespective of whether they were working on the census date or not. The labour force, on the other hand, in considering the basic activity of the individual during the survey week, includes only persons who were working, had jobs from which they were temporarily absent, or were seeking work during that period. The chief differences between the two concepts may be summarized by stating that the labour force includes numerous persons whose chief activity during a period of one year is student, homemaker, and retired as well as persons never gainfully occupied but seeking employment merely because they worked a specified number of hours during the survey week or were actively looking for work at that time. According to the gainfully occupied concept these categories are excluded from the gainfully occupied with the exception of those seeking employment who had been employed at some earlier date. On the other hand, persons previously employed not actively seeking employment during the survey week and not yet retired from gainful employment are excluded from the labour force but included in the gainfully occupied.

Le nombre de personnes actives âgées de 14 ans et plus est déterminé au moyen d'une question ou de questions relatives à l'occupation de ces personnes durant l'année de recensement, tandis que le nombre de personnes qui font partie de la main-d'oeuvre est déterminé au moyen de questions relatives à leur situation quant à l'emploi durant une période déterminée, d'habitude la semaine précédant la date de l'enquête. Ainsi, les seules personnes qui font partie de la population active sont celles qui déclarent un emploi rémunéré (ainsi qu'il est défini pour les fins du recensement*), indépendamment du fait qu'elles sont ou non au travail à la date du recensement. La main-d'oeuvre, par contre, compte tenu de l'activité principale de l'individu durant la semaine de l'enquête, ne comprend que les personnes qui travaillaient, avaient un emploi dont elles étaient temporairement absentes ou étaient en quête d'emploi durant cette période. Les différences principales entre les deux concepts peuvent être résumées en disant que la main-d'oeuvre comprend un grand nombre de personnes dont la principale activité durant une période d'un an a été celle d'étudiant, de maîtresse de maison ou qui étaient retirées, de même que des personnes qui n'avaient jamais eu d'emploi rémunéré mais, qui ne cherchaient du travail que parce qu'elles avaient travaillé un certain nombre d'heures durant la semaine de l'enquête ou s'employaient activement à en trouver sur le moment. Suivant le concept de la population active, ces catégories sont exclues de cette population, à l'exception des personnes en quête d'emploi qui avaient été employées antérieurement. D'autre part, les personnes employées antérieurement et ne cherchant pas activement du travail durant la semaine de l'enquête sans être encore retirées de la population active sont exclues de la main-d'oeuvre et incluses parmi la population active.

Occupation. — At the 1946 Census of the Prairie Provinces each gainfully occupied person, 14 years of age and over, was asked to state his or her chief occupation. Those unemployed on May 31, 1946, reported the occupation followed when last gainfully occupied. Persons discharged from the Armed Services who were still seeking their first civilian job since the time of their discharge were reported according to rank held in the Armed Forces prior to discharge and were, therefore, classified in the census tables as Officers—armed forces or Other ranks—armed forces as the case may be.

Occupation. — Lors du recensement des provinces des Prairies en 1946, chaque personne active âgée de 14 ans et plus a été priée de déclarer sa principale occupation. Celles qui étaient en chômage le 31 mai 1946 devaient déclarer la dernière occupation qu'elles avaient eue. Les personnes licenciées des services armés qui étaient encore en quête de leur premier emploi civil depuis leur licenciement ont été recensées d'après leur rang dans les forces armées antérieurement à leur licenciement. Elles ont donc été classées dans les tableaux du recensement comme Officier—forces armées ou comme Autres grades—forces armées, selon le cas.

Lorsqu'une personne avait ordinairement deux emplois ou plus, l'énumérateur devait inscrire celui auquel elle spent most of his time or from which he derived the greater part of his income.

Definition of Gainful Occupation. — The Census defines a gainful occupation as one "by which the person who pursues it earns money or in which he assists in the production of marketable goods". Children working at home on general household duties or at odd times on other work were not to be returned as gainfully occupied. Persons unemployed at the census date were asked to report the occupation in which last employed, but those who indicated that they had been unemployed for some lengthy period were further asked whether they were still seeking employment before being enumerated as gainfully occupied. Those who reported that, because of old age or physical disability, they were no longer following their former occupation and did not expect to return to it, or accept further employment, were enumerated as retired. Students, 14 years of age and over, regularly attending school or college or receiving private tuition, were not reported as gainfully occupied even though earning small sums of money after school, on Saturdays, or during the summer holidays. University students, temporarily employed at the census date, but intending to return to university in the fall, were likewise not included among the gainfully occupied population. As for young persons not attending school, only those employed regularly in some gainful occupation were included among the gainfully occupied. Children of working age, that is, 14 years of age and over, assisting parents in a "no pay" capacity on family farms or other enterprises were regarded as having a gainful occupation, but daughters assisting in the domestic work of the home without wages were not included in the population gainfully occupied.

Industry. — In addition to the chief occupation at the date of the Census, each gainfully occupied person, 14 years of age and over, was asked to state the nature of the industry in which this occupation was carried on. Those unemployed on May 31, 1946, reported the industry in which they were last gainfully occupied. Persons discharged from the Armed Forces who were still seeking their first civilian job since the time of their discharge were reported as attached to the Armed Forces on the census date and were, therefore, included in the industry Defence Services in the industry tables.

Occupational versus Industrial Classification. — The gainfully occupied are classified by occupation and industry in the tables of this volume. The group titles in these tables are similar but the composition of the groups is different. For example, the group Manufacturing, in industry tables, includes all persons employed by manufacturing firms, whether engaged in the processes of production, in the sale or transport of the product, or in clerical or other occupations associated with the industry. On the other hand, in the occupation tables found in this volume only such persons as followed so-called processing occupations, that is, occupations in which they were directly engaged in the process of manufacture or repair, are included in the group Manufacturing, and all persons following such occupations are classified in this group, irrespective of whether they were employed by manufacturing firms or by mining, construction, transportation, etc., companies at the time of the Census. Similarly, the groups Construction, Transportation, for example, in industry tables include all persons employed in these industries irrespective of the nature of their occupations, while the occupational groups, Construction, Transportation, appearing in the occupation tables, comprise only those persons who were following construction trades and transport occupations, respectively, at the census date, regardless of the industries in which they were employed.

It might be mentioned that persons in clerical occupations have been assigned a separate place in the occupation tables, while labourers in other than primary pursuits appear in a residuary group in these tables. Since the term labourer, so reported, gives no indication of the type of work performed, it cannot be classified under any of the occupation groups shown in the tables. Even a knowledge of the industry in which employed does not supply the necessary information on the type of work performed consacrait la majeure partie de son temps ou dont elle tirait la majeure partie de son revenu.

Définition d'un emploi rémunéré. — Pour les fins du recensement, un emploi rémunéré est un emploi par lequel la personne qui l'occupe gagne de l'argent ou participe à la production de denrées. Les enfants qui travaillent de temps à autre à la maison aux simples occupations ménagères ne sont pas inscrits comme ayant un emploi rémunéré. Les personnes qui, à la date du recensement, ne travaillaient pas, ont été priées de déclarer leur dernier emploi. Celles, par contre, qui ont déclaré n'avoir pas travaillé depuis assez longtemps ont été priées en outre de dire si elles cherchaient encore du travail avant d'être inscrites comme personnes actives. Celles, qui à cause de vieillesse ou d'invalidité physique ont déclaré ne plus avoir leur ancien emploi et ne plus espérer y retourner ou en accepter un autre, ont été énumérées comme retraitées. Les étudiants de 14 ans et plus, qui fréquentent régulièrement l'école ou le collège ou qui reçoivent des cours privés, n'ont pas été inscrits comme personnes actives même si, après l'école ou le samedi ou durant les vacances d'été, elles gagnent de petites sommes d'argent. Les étudiants dans les universités, employes temporairement à la date du recensement, mais qui ont l'intention de retourner à l'université à l'automne, n'ont pas été non plus comptés avec la population active. Quant aux jeunes personnes qui ne fréquentent pas l'école, seules celles qui ont un emploi rémunéré régulier figurent parmi la population active. Les enfants en âge de travailler, c'est-à-dire, âgés de 14 ans et plus, qui aident à leurs parents sans rémunération aux travaux de la ferme ou à toute autre entreprise sont considérés comme ayant un emploi rémunéré; par contre, les filles qui aident aux travaux ménagers sans rémunération ne figurent pas parmi la population active.

Industrie. — Chaque personne active de 14 ans et plus a été priée de déclarer, en plus de sa principale occupation à la date du recensement, la nature de l'industrie dans laquelle elle était engagée. Les personnes sans emploi le 31 mai 1946 déclaraient l'industrie dans laquelle elles avaient occupé leur dernier emploi rémunéré. Les personnes licenciées des forces armées qui étaient encore en quête de leur premier emploi civil depuis leur licenciement ont été inscrites comme étant attachées aux forces armées à la date du recensement et incluses dans l'industrie Services de la défense dans les tableaux des industries.

Classification occupationnelle et industrielle. — Dans les tableaux du présent volume, la population active est classée selon l'occupation et selon l'industrie. Les titres des groupes dans ces tableaux sont identiques mais leur composition est différente. Par exemple, le groupe Manufactures, dans les tableaux des industries, comprend toutes les personnes qui sont employées par les établissements manufacturiers, qu'elles soient engagées ou non à la production proprement dite, à la vente ou au transport du produit, ou encore à des occupations de bureau ou autres, associées à l'industrie. D'autre part, dans les tableaux des occupations, seules les personnes qui sont engagées dans des occupations de conditionnement ou transformation, c'est-à-dire des occupations où elles sont engagées directement dans la fabrication ou la réparation, font partie du groupe des manufactures, et toutes les personnes engagées à de telles occupations sont classées dans ce groupe qu'elles soient ou non employées par des établissements manufacturiers, miniers, ou des entreprises de construction, de transport, etc., au moment du recensement. De même, les groupes Construction, Transports, par exemple, dans le tableau des industries, comprennent toutes les personnes employées dans ces industries indépendamment de la nature de leur occupation, tandis que les groupes d'occupations dans la Construction, et les Transports, dans les tableaux des occupations, ne comprennent que les personnes qui sont employées à des métiers de construction ou à des occupations de transport, respectivement, à la date du recensement, indépendamment de l'industrie à laquelle elles sont attachées.

Il convient de mentionner que les personnes qui travaillent dans les bureaux occupent un endroit séparé dans les tableaux des occupations, tandis que les manoeuvres dans des entreprises autres que les entreprises primaires y forment un groupe résiduel. Comme le terme manoeuvre, tel qu'il est déclaré, ne donne aucune indication de la nature du travail exécuté, il ne peut être classé dans aucun des groupes d'occupations contenus dans ces tableaux. Même une connaissance de l'industrie qui fournit de l'emploi au manoeuvre by a person reported as a labourer, for a labourer, in a steel mill, for example, might be working in a construction, transport, etc., type of occupation rather than in an occupation directly concerned with the process of manufacture.

Changes in Occupational and Industrial Classification between the 1941 and 1946 Censuses. — Due to changes in the occupational classification since the 1941 Census, it is not possible to compare directly the major occupation groups and occupation sub-groups with those published for previous censuses. The Professional and Proprietary and Managerial groups, for example, are now shown separately as main divisions of the occupational structure whereas previously Professional was a sub-group under Service while Proprietary and Managerial occupations formed part of various major occupation groups depending upon the related group of industries with which the owners, managers, and officials were associated. Thus, owners, managers, and officials reported in transportation industries were formerly shown as such under the major occupational group Transportation and Communication while those engaged in mining and quarrying were so listed under Mining and Quarrying, etc.

In order to obtain comparability between the 1946 occupation classification and those of other census years, it is necessary, therefore, to re-group the data in such a way as to bring together the same group of occupation classes for each census year.

Comments concerning the comparability of the occupational classification apply equally well to the industrial classification. The present industrial classification differs only slightly from the 1941 classification in so far as major industry groups are concerned but industry classes within each major industry group have been re-arranged and in some cases new industry sub-groups established. It is, therefore, necessary to re-group industry classes before industry sub-group comparisons with previous census years are possible. In order to compare the 1941 industry sub-group figures for Textile products, as shown in the 1941 Census volumes, with the 1946 Census data, for example, it is necessary to add together the 1946 industry sub-group figures for Textile products (except clothing) and Clothing (textile and fur) and to subtract therefrom the 1946 industry class figures for Fur goods. The same is true with respect to comparisons of certain industry classes. Figures for Steam railways (including express) and Telegraph systems, for example, must be added together for 1941 in order to be comparable with the industry class figure Steam railways (including express and telegraph systems) as reported in 1946.

In making 1941 and 1946 occupation and industry comparisons, it is important to note that members of the Armed Forces on June 1, 1941, have been excluded from statistics published by occupation and industry in Volumes VI and VII of the 1941 Census, with the exception of Tables 4 and 17 (Volume VII). However, even in Tables 4 and 17 members of the Armed Forces on June 1, 1941, were classified according to occupations in which they were engaged and the industry to which they were attached prior to enlistment and not as members of the Armed Forces on the census date. In 1946, on the other hand, all members of the Armed Forces on June 1, 1946, including those discharged prior to that date but not re-established in civilian employment at that time, were classified in this volume as outlined under the headings, Members of the Armed Forces, Occupation, and Industry on pages XXIII, XV, and XVI, respectively.

Industrial Status. — Each gainfully occupied person, 14 years of age and over, was asked to state whether he or she was occupied in an employer, own account, wage-earner, or no-pay capacity. These classes of the gainfully occupied are defined as follows:

(a) Employers, i.e., persons who operate their own business and employ others to assist them. However, ne donne pas les renseignements nécessaires sur le genre de travail exécuté par une personne inscrite comme manoeuvre, parce qu'un manoeuvre dans une aciérie, par exemple, peut être employé à la construction, au transport, etc., plutôt que dans une occupation se rattachant immédiatement à la fabrication.

Changements dans la classification des occupations et des industries entre les recensements de 1941 et 1946. — En raison des changements apportés à la classification des occupations depuis le recensement de 1941, il n'est pas possible de comparer directement les principaux groupes et sous-groupes d'occupations avec ceux des recensements antérieurs. Les groupes d'occupations Professionnelles et De propriétaire et d'administration, par exemple, sont maintenant indiqués séparément comme divisions principales de la classification tandis qu'autrefois les occupations Professionnelles figuraient comme sous-groupe dans les Services tandis que les occupations Depropriétaire et d'administration faisaient partie de divers grands groupes selon le groupe d'industries correspondant auquel les propriétaires, les gérants et les administrateurs étaient associés. Ainsi, les propriétaires, les gérants et les administrateurs déclarés dans les industries du transport étaient autrefois indiqués comme tels dans le grand groupe Transports et communications, tandis que ceux qui étaient engagés dans les mines et les carrières étaient indiqués comme tels sous Mines et carrières, etc.

Il est donc nécessaire, pour des fins de comparaison entre la classification des occupations de 1946 et celle des autres années de recensement, de regrouper les données de façon à réunir le même groupe de catégories d'occupations pour chaque recensement.

Ces observations sur la comparabilité des classifications des occupations s'appliquent aussi à la classification des industries. La classification actuelle des industries ne diffère que très peu de celle de 1941 dans la mesure où les groupes importants d'industries sont visés, mais les catégories d'industries dans chaque grand groupe ont été remaniées et dans certains cas, de nouveaux sous-groupes ont été établis. Il est donc nécessaire de regrouper les catégories d'industries pour qu'il soit possible d'établir des comparaisons de sous-groupes avec les recensements antérieurs. Par exemple, afin d'établir une comparaison entre les chiffres du sous-groupe des Produits textiles, tels qu'ils sont révélés dans les volumes du recensement de 1941 et ceux du recensement de 1946, il faut additionner les chiffres du sous-groupe d'industries de 1946 Produits textiles (moins le vêtement) et Vêtement (textiles et fourrures) et en soustraire ensuite ceux de la catégorie d'industries Articles en fourrure de 1946. Il en est de même au sujet des comparaisons entre certaines catégories d'industries. Les chiffres des Chemins de fer à vapeur (y compris les messageries) et des Réseaux télégraphiques, par exemple, doivent être additionnés pour 1941 pour qu'ils soient comparables avec les chiffres de la catégorie d'industries Chemins de fer à vapeur (y compris messageries et réseaux télégraphiques) tels qu'ils sont relevés en 1946.

En établissant des comparaisons des occupations et des industries entre 1941 et 1946, il est important de remarquer que les membres des forces armées le 1er juin 1941 ont été exclus des statistiques publiées par occupation et industrie dans les volumes VI et VII du recensement de 1941, à l'exception des tableaux 4 et 17 (volume VII). Toutefois, même dans ces deux derniers tableaux, les membres des forces armées le 1er juin 1941 sont classés d'après l'occupation dans laquelle ils étaient engagés et l'industrie à laquelle ils étaient attachés avant leur enrôlement et non comme membres des forces armées à la date du recensement. En 1946, d'autre part, tous les membres des forces armées le 1er juin 1946, y compris ceux qui avaient été licenciés avant cette date mais qui n'avaient pas encore été réintégrés dans l'emploi civil, sont classés de cette façon dans le présent volume sous les rubriques Membres des forces armées, Occupation, et Industrie, aux pages XXIII, XV, et XVI, respectivement.

Situation industrielle. — Toute personne active âgée de 14 ans et plus a été priée de déclarer si elle était occupée comme employeur, à son compte, employé à gages ou sans paie. Ces catégories de personnes actives sont ainsi définies:

(a) Employeurs, i.e., les personnes qui exploitent leur propre entreprise et emploient d'autres personnes pour persons who manage a business for someone else and in so doing have the authority to hire employees as well as those who operate their own business merely with the aid of unpaid help (namely unpaid family workers) were not classified as employers.

- (b) Own account, i.e., persons who carry on their own business without the assistance of wage or salaried employees. However, this category of gainfully occupied workers may be aided by unpaid help in the furtherance of their business enterprises.
- (c) Wage-earners, i.e., employees working on a salary or wage basis, including commission and piece-rate forms of payment.
- (d) No pays, i.e., persons who receive no specified cash remuneration for their work. This class mainly includes family workers on farms and in stores receiving no fixed money payment but whose work contributes to the income of the family business. In this category are also included some employees of institutions and religious orders who only receive room and board and, possibly, tuition for their services.

Classes of Not Gainfully Occupied. — This category includes all persons, 14 years of age and over, who are not included in the definition of the gainfully occupied above,

The population, 14 years of age and over, not gainfully occupied, as shown in Table 2, includes:

- (a) Homemakers, i.e., women doing housework in their own home, without salary or wages, and having no other employment. This class includes a few single women keeping house for parents or relatives but, of course, does not include housewives who have some gainful occupation. Therefore, since a housewife, engaged chiefly in some economic activity during the census year, is considered as gainfully occupied, it is evident that the term homemaker is not exactly synonymous with that of housewife.
- (b) Retired, i.e., persons who had at one time been gainfully occupied but who, on account of old age, permanent physical disability, or other cause, no longer had a gainful occupation at the time of the Census and did not anticipate accepting further employment in the future. It does not, however, include females who had been gainfully occupied prior to the time of becoming homemakers but who for one reason or another can no longer be considered as belonging to the latter category if subsequent to that time they had not become economically active again.
- (c) Students, i.e., young persons, 14 years of age and over, regularly attending school, college, university or receiving private tuition, including any who were earning money after school as messenger, newsboy, etc. Only when not attending school and employed most of the day in some gainful employment would they be considered as gainfully occupied.
- (d) Inmates of institutions, i.e., persons confined to institutions, such as, penitentiaries, reformatories, sanatoria, old folks homes, etc. See also Persons in Institutions section.
- (e) Other: All other persons, 14 years of age and over, not gainfully occupied, were reported as none. This simply means that they were never gainfully occupied and, on the census date, did not fall into one of the "not gainfully occupied" categories defined above. Among this group those between 14 and 24 years of age were distinguished in the Census as to those seeking employment and those not seeking employment.

PART II

Wage-earners

This section of the volume is devoted entirely to wage-earners, 14 years of age and over, and presents statistics, les aider. Toutefois, celles qui administrent une entreprise pour le compte d'autres personnes et qui, en conséquence, sont autorisées à engager des employés, de même que celles qui exploitent leur propre entreprise avec une aide non rémunérée (notamment les membres de la famille qui ne sont pas payés) ne sont pas classées comme employeurs.

- (b) Propre compte, i.e., les personnes qui exploitent leur propre entreprise sans l'aide d'employés à gages ou à salaire. Toutefois, les personnes actives de cette catégorie peuvent recourir à de l'aide non rémunérée dans l'administration de leurs affaires.
- (c) Employés à gages, i.e., les employés qui travaillent à salaire, à gages, à commission ou à la pièce.
- (d) Sans paie, i.e., les personnes qui ne reçoivent pas de rémunération fixe en espèces pour leur travail. Cette catégorie peut comprendre des membres de la famille qui travaillent sur la ferme et au magasin sans recevoir de paie fixe mais dont le travail contribue au revenu de l'entreprise familiale. Dans cette catégorie sont aussi inclus certains employés dans les institutions et les congrégations religieuses qui ne reçoivent que chambre et pension et parfois l'enseignement pour leurs services.

Catégories de personnes inactives. — Ces catégories comprennent toutes les personnes de 14 ans et plus qui ne tombent pas sous la définition de la population active ci-dessus.

La population inactive de 14 ans et plus, ainsi que l'indique le tableau 2, comprend:

- (a) Maîtresses de maison, i.e., les femmes occupées aux travaux du ménage dans leur propre maison et qui n'ont pas d'autre emploi. Cette catégorie comprend quelques femmes célibataires qui tiennent maison pour leur père ou leur mère ou pour d'autres parents. Elle ne comprend pas toutefois les épouses qui ont quelque emploi rémunéré. Ainsi, comme une épouse occupée principalement à quelque activité économique durant l'année du recensement est considérée comme une personne active, il est clair que le terme maîtresse de maison n'est pas tout à fait synonyme de épouse.
- (b) Retirées, i.e., les personnes qui ont déjà eu un emploi rémunéré mais qui, à cause de vieillesse, d'invalidité physique permanente ou d'autres raisons n'en ont plus au moment du recensement et ne prévoient plus en avoir. Cette catégorie ne comprend pas toutefois les femmes qui avaient un emploi rémunéré avant de devenir maîtresses de maison mais qui, pour une raison ou pour une autre, ne peuvent plus être classées dans cette dernière catégorie si, dans la suite, elles n'ont pas repris leur activité économique.
- (c) Étudiants, i.e., les jeunes personnes de 14 ans et plus fréquentant régulièrement une école, un collège ou une université ou recevant des cours particuliers, y compris toutes celles qui gagnent quelque argent après la classe comme commissionnaires, camelots, etc. Elles ne sont classées actives que lorsqu'elles ne fréquentent pas l'école et sont employées la majeure partie de leur temps à quelque emploi rémunéré.
- (d) Pensionnaires dans les institutions, i.e., les personnes qui vivent dans des institutions telles que les pénitenciers, les maisons de correction, les sanatoriums, les hospices pour vieillards, etc. Voir aussi la section Personnes dans les institutions.
- (e) Autres: Toutes les autres personnes de 14 ans et plus qui ne sont pas actives sont désignées par le mot aucune. Cela veut dire simplement qu'elles n'ont jamais été actives et, qu'à la date du recensement, elles ne tombaient dans aucune des catégories de personnes inactives définies ci-dessus. Parmi ce groupe, les personnes de 14 à 24 ans sont réparties au recensement entre celles qui cherchent de l'emploi et celles qui n'en cherchent pas.

PARTIE II

Employés à gages

La présente section du volume est consacrée en entier aux employés à gages de 14 ans et plus et, sous des rubriques under separate headings, as to (a) Earnings and Employment and (b) Unemployment. It should be noted in this connection that wage-earners are also classified and/or cross-classified by occupation, industry, age, marital status, etc., i.e., according to the same characteristics as were used for presenting statistics of the Gainfully Occupied in Part I of this volume. The definitions and other relevant explanations of these terms, common to both categories, will, therefore, be found under the appropriate heading in the section dealing with the gainfully occupied population.

Earnings, Employment, and Unemployment Inquiries. — At the 1946 Census of the Prairie Provinces each wage-earner was asked to report the number of weeks employed in a wage-earning or salaried capacity, including paid holidays, during the 12 months prior to June 1, 1946, together with his total earnings over this period. Furthermore, each wage-earner was asked whether or not he was at work on May 31, 1946. If the answer was in the negative, he was further asked to indicate the reason for not being at work on that date. The reason given was classified under one of the following heads: no job, temporary lay-off, illness, accident, holiday, strike or lock-out, and other cause.

Earnings. — By earnings in the Census is meant the amount of money received as salary, wages, commission or piece-rate payment. Deductions from pay for pension schemes, income tax, War-Savings Certificates and bonds, and unemployment insurance were to be included in the amount of earnings received during the census year, but income from pensions, investments, workmen's compensation, relief and other sources of this kind were not to be included in the total earnings reported. It should be added that the money value of board and room is not counted in the earnings recorded in the Census, nor any income from employment during the 12 months prior to the Census on an own account basis.

Weeks Employed. — As stated, wage-earners were asked to report the number of weeks employed during the 12 month period ended June 1, 1946. Wage and salaried workers accustomed to receive holidays and sick leave with pay were asked to include such periods in the total number of weeks employed during the census year. Weeks worked on own account in farming, fishing, etc., or in a no pay capacity were not counted in the total weeks employed during the census year.

Cause for not Being at Work. — The Book of Instructions to Enumerators defines the causes for not being at work on May 31, 1946, as follows:

- (a) No job. — "This cause will be recorded when the wage-earner has no employment nor any reasonable prospect of returning to his former job".
- (b) Lay-off. — "Where the wage-earner is not at work on May 31, 1946, due to involuntary lay-off, without pay, owing to temporary shut-down of a plant, mine, etc., or to a partial lay-off of working force where the firm is operating on the day of the Census", the cause reported was lay-off.
- (c) Holiday. — "Where the wage-earner is on annual vacation or taking the day off voluntarily, with or without pay, and where he is away from work because the census date happens to coincide with his weekly rest day", the cause recorded was holiday.
- (d) Illness. — This cause was reported when the wage-earner's absence from work on the census date was "due to personal illness or illness in the family".
- (e) Accident. — "Only where the wage-earner was not at work on the census date due to a personal injury" was this cause reported. "Accident to machinery which makes necessary the closing down of a plant for a period of time should not be reported as accident but as lay-off".
- (f) Strike or lock-out. — This cause was entered on the Population Schedule "where the wage-earner was not at work on May 31, 1946, due to an industrial dispute".

distinctes, donne la statistique (a) du gain et de l'emploi et (b) du chômage. Il convient de remarquer à ce sujet que les employés à gages sont aussi classés ou recoupés par l'occupation, l'industrie, l'âge, l'état conjugal, etc., i.e., d'après les mêmes caractéristiques qui ont servi à la présentation statistique de la Population active dans la partie I. Les définitions et les explications de ces termes, communs aux deux catégories, se trouvent donc sous la rubrique appropriée dans la section qui traite de la population active.

Questions sur le gain, l'emploi et le chômage. — Au recensement des provinces des Prairies en 1946, tout employé à gages a été prié de déclarer le nombre de ses semaines de travail, y compris les vacances payées, en qualité d'employé à gages ou à salaire, au cours des 12 mois antérieurs au 1er juin 1946. Il a dû aussi déclarer son gain total durant cette période. En outre, chaque employé à gages a dû déclarer s'il était ou non au travail le 31 mai 1946. Si la réponse était négative, il devait dire pourquoi. La raison déclarée était classée sous les rubriques suivantes: pas de travail, arrêt temporaire, maladie, accident, vacances, grève ou lock-out et autres raisons.

Gain. — Le recensement définit le gain comme étant la somme d'argent reçue en salaire, gages, commission ou comme rémunération pour du travail à la pièce. Les déductions de salaire pour pension, impôt sur le revenu, certificats et obligations d'épargne de guerre et assurance-chômage devaient figurer au montant du gain reçu durant l'année de recensement, mais le revenu de pensions, placements, indemnisation aux accidentés du travail, secours et autres sources de même nature ne devaient pas y figurer. Il convient d'ajouter que la valeur monétaire de la pension et de la chambre ne figure pas au gain relevé au recensement. Il en est de même du revenu du travail à propre compte durant les 12 mois antérieurs au recensement.

Semaines d'emploi. — Ainsi qu'il a été indiqué, les employés à gages ont été priés de déclarer le nombre de semaines d'emploi durant les 12 mois terminés le 1er juin 1946. Les travailleurs à gages et à salaire qui bénéficient d'habitude de vacances et de congé de maladie payés ont dû en outre inclure ces périodes dans le total des semaines d'emploi durant l'année de recensement. Les semaines consacrées à du travail à leur propre compte, soit dans l'agriculture, la pêche, etc., ou sans paie, ne comptent pas avec les semaines d'emploi durant l'année de recensement.

Raison de l'oisiveté. — Le Manuel d'instructions à l'usage des énumérateurs définit ainsi les causes de l'oisiveté le 31 mai 1946:

- (a) Pas de travail. — "Ceci est inscrit lorsque l'employé à gages n'a pas d'emploi ni espoir raisonnable de reprendre celui qu'il avait autrefois".
- (b) Arrêt temporaire. — "Quand il s'agit d'un employé à gages qui ne travaillait pas le 31 mai 1946, à cause d'un arrêt temporaire, sans paie, attribuable peut-être à la fermeture temporaire de l'usine, de la mine, etc., ou au renvoi d'une partie des employés alors que l'usine continue de fonctionner, le jour du recensement", la raison indiquée est arrêt temporaire.
- (c) Vacances. — "Cette raison s'applique à un employé à gages en vacances annuelles ou qui prend volontairement un congé d'une journée, avec ou sans rémunération, et qui n'est pas au travail parce que le jour du recensement coïncide avec sa journée de repos hebdomadaire", et la raison indiquée est vacances.
- (d) Maladie. — Cette raison est donnée lorsqu'un employé à gages n'est pas au travail le jour du recensement à cause de "maladie personnelle ou de maladie d'un membre de la famille".
- (e) Accident. — Cette raison n'est donnée que lorsqu'un employé à gages ne travaille pas le 31 mai 1946 à cause d'une blessure corporelle. Toutefois, quand il s'agit d'une panne de machinerie qui nécessite la fermeture temporaire de l'usine, il ne faut pas l'indiquer comme accident mais comme arrêt temporaire.
- (f) Grève ou lock-out. — Cette raison a été inscrite sur le questionnaire de la population lorsque "l'employé à gages ne travaille pas le 31 mai 1946, à cause d'un différend industriel".

(g) Other cause. — Where the reason given for not being at work on the census date did not come under any of the above heads the enumerator reported the absence as due to other cause.

General

Age. — The age classification presented in this volume is based on the age of each individual at his last birthday prior to June 1, 1946, that is, age in completed years. Not stated age has been eliminated according to the procedure outlined under the Assignment of Unstated Information section.

Birthplace. — With respect to birthplace each person born in Canada was asked to state the province of birth while those born elsewhere were asked to report the country in which they were born. Any European country reported was to be as constituted in 1936. The gainfully occupied born outside of Canada are classified in this volume under four headings, that is, British Isles (including British Possessions), Continental Europe, United States, and all other (including those born on a ship at sea).

Marital Status. — Marital Status has been enumerated under four categories: Single, married, widowed, and divorced. The married status group includes all married persons irrespective of whether or not the husband and wife were living together at the time of the Census. It might be pointed out that persons married but not living together include those who were legally separated, immigrants whose husbands or wives were still abroad, persons whose husbands or wives were in institutions, etc.

Mother Tongue. — The mother tongue reported by the enumerator was to be the first language spoken in childhood which is still understood by the person.

Place of Residence on June 1, 1941. — In order to obtain sufficient information regarding the problem of the population movement in so far as the de jure population of the three Prairie Provinces was concerned, it was decided to ask each person certain questions regarding residence in 1941. The first of these questions elicited the particular type of locality in Canada in which the individual resided on June 1, 1941. The enumeration entry for this purpose was (1) same home in the case where the person resided in the same dwelling on June 1, 1941, as at the census date, (2) same rural mun., same city, same town, or same village in the case where the person resided in the same rural or urban municipality but, nevertheless, in a different dwelling on June 1, 1941, than on June 1, 1946, or (3) the name of the rural municipality, city, town, or village in Canada in which the person resided on June 1, 1941, if different from that in which his dwelling was located at the census date. The second question was directed to all those falling under category (3) above as well as to those who had come to Canada since June 1, 1941, and were now living in one of the three Prairie Provinces at the 1946 Census date, the answer to the former being the name of the province and to the latter the name of the country in which the individual resided on June 1, 1941. Finally, the third question required an answer from every person in categories (2) and (3) above, the answer merely being a yes or no depending upon whether the individual at his June 1, 1941, de jure residence lived on a farm or not.

Years of Schooling. — The question concerning years of schooling was designed to elicit from each individual the total number of school years that he or she attended any kind of educational institution. Private tuition was to be counted for the number of years of formal schooling to which it was equivalent. It is possible that in some cases individuals reported primary and secondary school attendance but failed to include the number of years spent at college or university. This may be the reason why a few persons in professional occupations normally requiring a university education are shown in this volume with fewer than 13 years of schooling.

Geographic Areas. — Statistics of the gainfully occupied and wage-earner population are shown in this volume for the following geographic areas: (a) the province as a whole,

(g) Autres causes. — Si la raison donnée pour n'être pas au travail le jour du recensement ne tombe sous aucune des rubriques ci-dessus mentionnées, l'énumérateur indique que l'absence est attribuable à autres causes.

Généralités

Age. — Le classement selon l'âge donné dans le présent volume repose sur l'âge de chaque personne à son dernier anniversaire antérieur au 1er juin 1946, c'est-à-dire l'âge en années rondes. Les cas d'âge non spécifié ont été éliminés conformément à la méthode expliquée dans la section intitulée Attribution des cas non spécifiés.

Lieu de naissance. — Au sujet du lieu de naissance, chaque personne née au Canada a été priée de dire dans quelle province elle est née tandis que les personnes nées ailleurs devaient déclarer le pays dans lequel elles sont nées. Tout pays européen devait être déclaré selon sa constitution en 1936. Les personnes actives nées en dehors du Canada sont classées dans le présent volume sous quatre rubriques: îles Britanniques (y compris les possessions britanniques), Europe continentale, États-Unis, toutes autres (y compris celles qui sont nées en mer).

Etat conjugal. — L'état conjugal a été relevé sous quatre rubriques: célibataire, marié, en veuvage et divorcé. Le groupe marié comprend toutes les personnes mariées, indépendamment du fait que l'époux et l'épouse vivent ensemble ou non au moment du recensement. Il convient de souligner que les personnes mariées qui ne vivent pas ensemble comprennent celles qui sont légalement séparées, les immigrants dont l'époux ou l'épouse est encore à l'étranger, les personnes dont le mari ou l'épouse est dans une institution, etc.

Langue maternelle. — La langue maternelle, inscrite par l'énumérateur doit être la langue parlée dans l'enfance et encore comprise de la personne.

Lieu de résidence le 1er juin 1941. — Aux fins d'obtenir des renseignements suffisants relativement au problème créé par le mouvement de la population, en ce qui concerne la population de jure des provinces des Prairies, il a été décidé de poser à chaque personne certaines questions au sujet de la résidence en 1941. La première de ces questions portait sur le genre particulier de localité au Canada où demeurerait la personne le 1er juin 1941. L'inscription à faire à cette fin était (1) même maison dans le cas où la personne, à la date du recensement, habitait le même logement que le 1er juin 1941, (2) même municipalité rurale, même cité, même ville, ou même village dans le cas d'une personne qui, le 1er juin 1941, demeurerait dans la même municipalité rurale ou urbaine mais dans un logement différent que le 1er juin 1946, ou (3), le nom de la municipalité rurale, de la cité, de la ville ou du village au Canada où la personne demeurerait le 1er juin 1941, si, à la date du recensement, elle habitait un endroit différent. La deuxième question visait toutes les personnes de la catégorie (3), ci-dessus mentionnée, de même que toutes celles qui étaient arrivées au Canada depuis le 1er juin 1941 et qui, à la date du recensement de 1946, vivaient dans l'une des trois provinces des Prairies. La réponse, dans le premier cas, était le nom de la province et, dans le dernier, le nom du pays où la personne demeurerait le 1er juin 1941. Finalement, toutes les personnes des catégories (2) et (3) ci-dessus devaient répondre à la troisième question par un oui ou un non simplement, selon que la personne, à sa résidence de jure, le 1er juin 1941, vivait sur une ferme ou non.

Années d'école. — La question relative aux années d'école visait à établir le nombre total d'années que la personne avait passées dans une maison d'enseignement quelconque. Les cours particuliers devaient compter pour le nombre d'années d'école auxquels ils équivalaient. Il se peut que, dans certains cas, les personnes aient déclaré avoir fréquenté l'école primaire ou secondaire sans dire combien d'années elles avaient passées au collège ou à l'université. C'est peut-être la raison pour laquelle quelques personnes qui occupent des emplois professionnels exigeant une formation universitaire sont indiquées dans le présent volume comme ayant moins de 13 années d'école.

Régions géographiques. — La statistique de la population active et des employés à gages est donnée dans le présent volume pour les régions géographiques suivantes: (a) province

(b) census divisions, subdivided as to rural farm, rural non-farm and urban, (c) urban centres of 1,000 population and over, (d) the Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg, and (e) social areas in urban centres of 30,000 population and over.

In using the data by geographical areas as published herein, it is necessary to bear in mind not only the particular area involved but also the method used for census enumeration because the size of the population and, hence, all relevant statistics published for the area are vitally dependent upon the particular enumeration method used. It should, therefore, be stated in this connection that the Statistics Act provides that the Census be taken according to what is known as the de jure method. By this method, each person is reported in the locality of his permanent residence on the census date rather than where he temporarily resides, is employed, or has his place of business.

Since geographical areas have, in some cases, been used in a specific or limited sense for purposes of presenting the statistical data in this volume, it is necessary, therefore, to briefly define and to explain certain of the terms used for this purpose.

(1) Census Divisions. — In view of the fact that no counties, similar to those in Eastern Canada, existed in the three Prairie Provinces, each of the three provinces has been divided in 1921 into areas designated as Census Divisions. The object of this was to set up permanent areas for the publication of census statistics. The permanent nature of these areas facilitates comparability of the census data assembled from time to time and permits the study of the changing character of the personal and economic characteristics of the population residing within them.

A map showing the census divisions and descriptions outlining the boundaries of these census divisions are given for each province in Appendix C of this volume.

(2) Rural and Urban Areas. — The term urban, as defined for census purposes, refers to incorporated cities, towns and villages, while the term rural applies to the remaining regions, i.e., rural municipalities, unorganized areas, etc., including unincorporated towns, villages and hamlets. The population density of rural areas is in no way taken into consideration when the population is segregated for census purposes as to rural and urban even though the social and economic conditions in some cases resemble more closely those within urban rather than rural areas. The suburban rural parts in the vicinity of Winnipeg, such as St. James Municipality, St. Vital Municipality, etc., are an example of rural areas whose populations live under conditions which are little different from those existing within the incorporated boundaries of the cities of Winnipeg, St. Boniface, etc. Thus, whenever the total gainfully occupied or wage-earner population is shown in this volume as rural and/or urban, it merely has reference to that sector of the population residing within rural and/or urban areas, as defined above, of the census division or province concerned.

(3) Rural Farm and Rural Non-Farm. — The population in rural areas is further subdivided into rural farm and rural non-farm. The former comprises all rural residents living on farms as defined in the Census of Agriculture* irrespective of the occupation followed by the individuals so classified, while the latter comprises the balance of the rural residents. This concept differs somewhat from the one used at the dans l'ensemble, (b) divisions de recensement subdivisées selon les régions rurales agricoles et non agricoles et centres urbains, (c) centres urbains de 1,000 et plus, (d) région métropolitaine de Winnipeg, et (e) zones sociales des centres urbains de 30,000 et plus.

Dans l'emploi des données selon les régions géographiques telles qu'elles sont indiquées ci-dessus, il importe de se rappeler non seulement la région particulière dont il s'agit mais aussi la méthode employée dans le recensement à cause de l'importance numérique de la population. Il s'ensuit que toutes les données pertinentes publiées pour une région dépendent essentiellement de la méthode particulière de recensement employée. Il importe donc de dire, à ce sujet, que la loi de statistique décrète que le recensement sera effectué conformément à ce qui s'appelle la méthode de jure. En vertu de cette méthode, toute personne est assignée à la localité dans laquelle elle est régulièrement domiciliée à la date du recensement plutôt qu'à celle où elle demeure temporairement, où elle travaille ou tient son commerce.

Puisque, dans certains cas, les régions géographiques ont servi dans un sens spécifique ou limité aux fins de présenter les données statistiques dans le présent volume, il est donc nécessaire de définir brièvement et d'expliquer certains des termes employés.

(1) Divisions de recensement. — Comme il n'y a pas dans les provinces des Prairies de comtés qui correspondent à ceux de l'Est du Canada, chacune des trois provinces a été divisée en 1921 en régions désignées du nom de Divisions de recensement. L'objet de cette division était d'établir des régions permanentes aux fins de la publication de la statistique de recensement. Le caractère permanent de ces régions facilite la comparaison des données de recensement réunies de temps à autre et permet l'étude du caractère changeant des attributs personnels et économiques de la population qui y réside.

L'appendice C du présent volume contient une carte indiquant les divisions de recensement et des descriptions de leurs frontières pour chaque province.

(2) Régions rurales et régions urbaines. — Le terme urbain, tel qu'il est défini pour les fins du recensement, s'applique aux cités, villes et villages incorporés, tandis que le terme rural s'applique aux régions qui restent, i.e., les municipalités rurales, les régions non organisées, etc., y compris les villes, villages et hameaux non incorporés. La densité de la population des régions rurales n'entre aucunement en ligne de compte lorsque la population est répartie, pour les fins du recensement, en population rurale et population urbaine, même si les conditions sociales et économiques, dans certains cas, ressemblent davantage à celles des régions urbaines qu'à celles des régions rurales. Les parties suburbaines rurales de la périphérie de Winnipeg, telles que les municipalités de St-James, de St-Vital, etc., sont un exemple de régions rurales dont la population vit dans des conditions très peu différentes de celles qui règnent en deçà des limites incorporées de la ville de Winnipeg, de St-Boniface, etc. De sorte que, partout où la population active totale ou d'employés à gages est indiquée dans le présent volume comme rurale ou urbaine, il ne s'agit tout simplement que du secteur de la population qui habite les régions rurales ou urbaines, telles qu'elles sont définies ci-dessus, de la division de recensement ou de la province concernée.

(3) Rurale agricole et rurale non agricole. — La population des régions rurales est, de plus, subdivisée en population rurale agricole et rurale non agricole. La première comprend tous les résidents ruraux qui vivent sur des fermes, selon la définition donnée dans le recensement de l'agriculture* indépendamment de l'occupation des personnes ainsi classées. La deuxième comprend les autres résidents ruraux. Ce concept

* A Farm for census purposes is all the land located in any one sub-district which is directly farmed by one person conducting agricultural operations, either by his own labour or with the assistance of members of his household or of hired employees. It may consist of a single tract of land, or of a number of separate tracts, held under different tenures. In order to be reported as a farm such land must be of one acre or more in extent and have produced in 1945 agricultural products to the value of $50 or more, or be under crops or employed for pasture in 1946.

* Pour les fins du recensement, une ferme comprend toute l'étendue de terre située dans un sous-district quelconque et cultivée par un fermier qui l'exploite lui-même ou avec l'aide de membres de son ménage ou de personnes engagées. Elle peut se composer d'une seule langue de terre ou d'un certain nombre de parcelles distinctes exploitées sous divers modes d'occupation ou de possession. Pour être désignée comme une ferme, cette étendue de terre doit être d'une acre ou plus et avoir donné en 1945 pour une valeur de $50 ou plus de produits agricoles ou être en culture ou en pâturage en 1946.

1941 Census for segregating the rural population into these two categories. The chief difference as between the concept of 1941 and 1946 was that the former included in the rural farm population persons residing in an area wherein the residents were chiefly engaged in farming operations. Thus, the rural farm population included, in addition to most persons living on farms, some who were neither living on farms nor carrying on farming operations. On the other hand, it excluded possibly just as many persons who were living on farms or were engaged in farming activities but who resided in an area whose residents were chiefly occupied in non-agricultural work. The 1941 concept required an arbitrary decision in many cases and, therefore, did not lend itself as readily to the segregation of the rural population into the rural farm and rural non-farm categories as did the concept adopted for this purpose in 1946.

(4) Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg. — The Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg includes, in addition to the city proper, the satellite communities outside the city boundary which are in close economic and geographical relationship to it.

The table below shows the areas and the population included in the Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg as reported at the 1946 Census:

| Area | Total | Male | Female |

(5) Social Areas. — The cities of Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon, and Winnipeg as well as the satellite communities included in the Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg have been subdivided into so-called social areas. The boundaries defining these areas have been drawn up by the respective city authorities in co-operation with the Census Division. This work was completed prior to the 1941 Census in the case of the Metropolitan Area of Winnipeg and subsequent to that date for the other four cities. These social areas were established permanently in order to facilitate the comparison of statistical data from census to census for purposes of studying the demographic, social, and economic conditions existing therein. Furthermore, the division of the total area of each city concerned was so designed as to establish social area units of fairly uniform size in so far as this was possible, while at the same time retaining a relatively homogeneous population with respect to such important factors as ethnic origin, social-economic activities of the gainful workers, etc., within the boundaries of each social area.

Assignment of Unstated Information. — Since the enumerator was frequently unable to contact the individual whom he was enumerating he had to depend in such cases on some other member of the household or even a neighbour to supply the necessary information. Under these circumstances it occasionally occurred that the respondent was unable to furnish all the required data pertaining to the individual while at other times, due to an oversight on the part of the enumerator, diffère quelque peu de celui qui a été employé lors du recensement de 1941 aux fins de répartir la population entre ces deux catégories. La principale différence entre le concept de 1941 et celui de 1946 tient de ce que le premier classe avec la population rurale agricole, les personnes qui demeurent dans une région où les habitants s'occupent principalement d'agriculture. Ainsi, la population rurale agricole comprenait, en plus de la plupart des personnes qui vivaient sur des fermes, certaines autres personnes qui ne vivaient pas sur des fermes et qui ne s'adonnaient pas à l'agriculture. D'autre part, elle excluait probablement à peu près autant de personnes qui vivaient sur des fermes ou s'adonnaient à l'agriculture mais qui demeuraient dans une région dont les résidents étaient principalement engagés dans des travaux non agricoles. Le concept de 1941 exige une décision arbitraire dans plusieurs cas et, en conséquence, ne se prête pas aussi facilement à la répartition de la population rurale entre agricole et non agricole comme il en est du concept de 1946.

(4) Région métropolitaine de Winnipeg. — La région métropolitaine de Winnipeg comprend, en plus de la ville proprement dite, les collectivités satellites situées au-delà des limites de la ville et qui sont en étroite relation économique et géographique avec elle.

Le tableau ci-dessous indique les régions et la population comprises dans la région métropolitaine de Winnipeg, telles qu'elles ont été relevées au recensement de 1946:

| Région | Total | Hommes | Femmes |
|--|---------|---------|---------|
| Région métropolitaine de Winnipeg..... | 307,494 | 149,883 | 157,611 |
| Winnipeg (cité proprement dite)..... | 229,045 | 110,954 | 118,091 |
| Brooklands (village)..... | 2,728 | 1,386 | 1,342 |
| Fort-Garry (municipalité).... | 5,200 | 2,666 | 2,534 |

| St-Vital " | 14,674 | 7,305 | 7,369 |
| Tuxedo (ville)..... | 677 | 325 | 352 |

(5) Zones sociales. — Les cités de Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon et Winnipeg aussi bien que les collectivités satellites comprises dans la région métropolitaine de Winnipeg ont été subdivisées en zones dites zones sociales. Les limites de ces zones ont été tracées par les autorités municipales de chaque ville en collaboration avec la Division du recensement. Ce travail était terminé avant le recensement de 1941 dans le cas de la région métropolitaine de Winnipeg. Il le fut dans la suite pour les quatre autres villes mentionnées. Les zones sociales ont été établies en permanence afin de faciliter la comparaison des données statistiques d'un recensement à l'autre dans l'étude des conditions démographiques, sociales et économiques qui y règnent. De plus, la division de la superficie totale de chaque ville a été faite de façon à établir, dans la mesure du possible, des zones passablement uniformes quant à l'importance tout en conservant à l'intérieur de chacune une population relativement homogène en ce qui concerne les facteurs importants tels que l'origine ethnique, l'activité sociale-économique de la population active, etc.

Attribution des cas non spécifiés. — Il est arrivé souvent que l'énumérateur n'a pu se mettre en contact avec la personne qu'il devait recenser. Il a dû alors se fier à quelque autre membre du ménage ou même à un voisin. Dans de telles circonstances, il est arrivé plusieurs fois que le répondant ne pouvait fournir tous les détails exigés au sujet de la personne et, parfois, à cause d'un oubli de la part de l'énumérateur, certain détail n'a pu être inscrit sur le questionnaire he failed to make an entry on the Population Schedule. The result was that some information was missing when the enumeration books were received at the Bureau. These omissions could have been dealt with during the processing stage of the data in one of two ways, viz., by considering them as not stated or by assigning the missing information by reference to other facts on the schedule. The former course was followed at the 1946 Census in the case of economic data, such as occupation, earnings, employment, etc., and the latter with respect to personal or demographic facts, such as age, marital status, birthplace, etc.

Members of the Armed Forces. — All persons in the Armed Forces on June 1, 1946, were, of course, considered as wage-earners and, therefore, included in the gainfully occupied and wage-earner tables. They were classified as Officers—armed forces and Other ranks—armed forces in the occupation tables and were all included in the industry class Defence Services in the industry tables. For further information as to the classification of persons in the Armed Forces see also sections dealing with Occupation and Industry.

Indians on Reserves. — Indians living on reserves and reported as gainfully occupied at the 1946 Census are excluded from the figures in this volume although the number of those 14 years of age and over, whether gainfully occupied or not, are shown, by age and sex, in Table 2 for each of the provinces. The exclusion of this sector of the population from the data published herein has only a negligible effect on the total gainfully occupied in each province or other geographic unit but it should, nevertheless, be borne in mind when occupation and industry class comparisons are made with previous censuses. Worthwhile percentage differences will be found to exist on this account in the comparison of such occupations as Fishermen and Hunters and Trappers as well as in the corresponding industries Fishing and Hunting and Trapping. A number of Indians on reserves are also reported as Farmers and stock raisers and Farm labourers in some types of agricultural industries but percentage-wise the number so engaged is insignificant.

Persons in Institutions. — Inmates of institutions at the date of the Census are not included in the gainfully occupied population irrespective of whether they were gainfully occupied prior to admittance or were subsequently employed at some productive work within the institution. Only persons in prisons, reformatories, jails and penitentiaries as well as in mental institutions, veterans hospitals, and places for the aged, incurables, and feeble-minded, i.e., in institutions in which the individuals are restrained by force of law or remain for long periods of time, are considered as inmates of institutions for this purpose.

Staffs of these and other institutions as well as members of such institutional households as convents, monasteries, etc., at the time of the Census, are, of course, included with the gainfully occupied population.

de la population. Il en est résulté que certains renseignements manquaient aux cahiers de recensement lorsque ceux-ci sont parvenus au Bureau. Ces omissions auraient pu être traitées de deux façons au cours de l'analyse des données, soit en les considérant comme non donné ou en attribuant le renseignement qui manquait d'après les autres détails du questionnaire. La première méthode a été suivie au recensement de 1946 dans le cas des données économiques, telles que l'occupation, le gain, l'emploi, etc., et la deuxième, en ce qui concerne les détails personnels et démographiques, tels que l'âge, l'état conjugal, le lieu de naissance, etc.

Membres des forces armées. — Toutes les personnes qui faisaient partie des forces armées le 1er juin 1946 ont été, naturellement, considérées comme des employés à gages et, en conséquence, incorporées aux tableaux de la population active et des employés à gages. Elles ont été classées Officier—forces armées et Autres grades—forces armées, dans les tableaux des occupations; elles ont toutes été incluses dans la catégorie d'industries Service de la défense, dans les tableaux des industries. Pour plus amples renseignements sur le classement des personnes qui faisaient partie des forces armées, voir les sections Occupation et Industrie.

Indiens des réserves. — Les Indiens qui vivent dans des réserves et qui sont déclarés actifs au recensement de 1946 sont exclus des chiffres du présent volume bien que le nombre de ceux qui sont âgés de 14 ans et plus, actifs ou non, soit indiqué par âge et par sexe dans le tableau 2, pour chaque province. L'exclusion de ce secteur de la population des données publiées ici n'a qu'une influence négligeable sur la population active totale de chaque province ou de chaque autre subdivision géographique. Il en faut cependant tenir compte lorsque la comparaison des catégories d'occupations et d'industries est faite avec les recensements antérieurs. On constatera des différences appréciables à ce sujet dans la comparaison d'occupations telles que Pêcheurs et Chasseurs et piégeurs aussi bien que des industries correspondantes Pêche et Chasse et piégeage. Un certain nombre d'Indiens des réserves sont inscrits comme Cultivateurs et éleveurs de bestiaux et Manœuvres agricoles dans certains genres d'industries agricoles, mais, proportionnellement, le nombre en est insignifiant.

Personnes dans les institutions. — Les pensionnaires des institutions à la date du recensement ne figurent pas parmi la population active, indépendamment du fait qu'ils étaient actifs avant leur admission ou furent subséquemment employés à quelque travail productif dans l'institution même. Seules les personnes dans les prisons, les maisons de correction et les pénitenciers de même que dans les institutions pour maladies mentales, les hôpitaux de vétérans et les refuges pour les vieillards, les incurables et les faibles d'esprit, i.e., les institutions où les individus sont maintenus par la loi ou demeurent durant de longues périodes, sont considérées, à ces fins, comme pensionnaires d'institutions.

Le personnel de ces institutions et les membres de ménage d'institution tels que couvents, monastères, etc., au moment du recensement, font, de toute évidence, partie de la population active.

COMMENTS AND SUMMARY TABLES

A. GAINFULLY OCCUPIED POPULATION

Gainfully Occupied, 1901-1946. — A summary of the gainfully occupied population, 14 years of age and over, as reported in the Prairie Provinces at the 1901 and subsequent census dates, is shown in Table I. The information in this table points to the fact that a phenomenal growth in the number of gainfully occupied has taken place in this region during the 45-year period between 1901 and 1946. At the time of the 1901 Census, only 134,252 persons were reported as following gainful occupations in this whole area. Of this number 86,079 or two-thirds were in fact concentrated in the Province of Manitoba so that only 48,173 or 35.9 per cent of the total gainfully occupied were found in the area which now constitutes Saskatchewan, Alberta, and the Northwest Territories.

Activity in the Prairie Provinces, however, was not destined to remain at this low level and it is now seen that great changes were in store for this area at the turn of the 20th century. The fortuitous combination of such factors as the railway construction (linking East and West), technological developments in industrial centres, world economic recovery, demands for farm produce from overseas, etc., fostered the development of the western agricultural industry and, hence, all other auxiliary industries required for the proper functioning of an economy which was basically agricultural in nature. The opportunities offered here by the impact of these factors were not left unnoticed by those with initiative and a pioneering spirit. Thus the small number of gainfully occupied persons in the Prairie Provinces in the early part of the 20th century, bolstered by immigration from the United States and from overseas as well as by in-migration from Eastern Canada began to grow and this growth continued uninterruptedly until it reached a peak at the time of the 1941 Census when 942,452 persons, including members of the Armed Forces, were reported as gainfully occupied in the three Prairie Provinces. In other words the gainfully occupied recorded a seven fold increase in this area during the 40-year period between 1901 and 1941. Early in the 1940's, however, expansion of the gainfully occupied ceased and when the 1946 Census of the Prairie Provinces was taken the number of gainfully occu-

COMMENTAIRES ET TABLEAUX SOMMAIRES

A. POPULATION ACTIVE

Population active, 1901-1946. — Le tableau I donne un aperçu sommaire de la population active de 14 ans et plus relevée au recensement des provinces des Prairies de 1901 et aux recensements subséquents. D'après ce tableau, la population active dans cette région accuse au cours de la période de 45 ans de 1901 à 1946 une augmentation numérique phénoménale. Lors du recensement de 1901, 134,252 personnes seulement déclaraient des emplois rémunérés dans toute la région. Sur ce nombre, 86,079 ou les deux tiers étaient concentrées, de fait, dans le Manitoba, de sorte que 48,173 personnes ou 35.9 pour cent seulement de toute la population active se trouvaient dans la région qui forme aujourd'hui la Saskatchewan, l'Alberta et les Territoires du Nord-Ouest.

Toutefois, l'activité dans les provinces des Prairies ne devait pas rester à ce bas niveau et on voit maintenant que de grands changements devaient se produire au début du 20e siècle. La conjugaison imprévue de facteurs tels que la construction de chemins de fer (reliant l'Est à l'Ouest), les progrès techniques des centres industriels, le redressement économique mondial, les marchés d'outre-mer pour les produits agricoles, etc., a déterminé le développement de l'industrie agricole de l'Ouest et, partant, de toutes les industries qui s'y rattachent et qui sont essentielles au bon fonctionnement d'une économie foncièrement agricole. Les chances offertes alors par les répercussions de ces divers facteurs n'ont pas passé inaperçues pour ceux qui avaient de l'initiative et l'esprit d'aventure. Ainsi, la petite poignée de personnes actives dans les provinces des Prairies dans la première partie du 20e siècle, grossie par les immigrants venus des Etats-Unis et d'outre-mer aussi bien que par les migrants venus de l'Est du Canada, s'est mise à augmenter et cette augmentation s'est poursuivie sans interruption jusqu'à ce que le nombre de personnes actives, y compris les membres des forces armées, dans les trois provinces des Prairies, atteigne, lors du recensement de 1941, le sommet de 942,452 personnes. En d'autres termes, la population active a septuplé dans cette région au cours des 40 années écoulées entre 1901 et 1941. Toutefois, dans les premières années 1940, elle a cessé d'augmenter et, lors du recensement des provinces des Prai-

... en 1946, le nombre de personnes actives avait fléchi de son sommet de 942,452 le 2 juin 1941 à 892,869 le 1er juin 1946, perte de 5.3 pour cent en cinq ans.

It should be pointed out that growth in the number of gainfully occupied, in so far as civilian employment is concerned, probably ceased shortly after the outbreak of World War II and declined thereafter until the end of the War when demobilization of the Armed Forces released additional men for civilian work. In spite of the increase in the number of persons available for civilian employment as a result of demobilization, however, the number of persons reporting a civilian gainful occupation in the Prairie Provinces at the time of the 1946 Census was lower than on June 2, 1941.

The pattern of growth and decline set by the total gainfully occupied, including members of the Armed Forces, in the Prairie Provinces was not the same for both sexes. Gainfully occupied females increased at a greater rate between 1901 and 1941 than did the gainfully occupied males and, furthermore, while the number of female gainful workers continued to grow between 1941 and 1946 that of the gainfully occupied males dropped rather sharply in this 5-year interval. Thus while gainful male workers in this area increased from 122,684 in 1901 to 809,318 in 1941, or by six and one-half times, they declined to 749,395, or by 7.4 per cent, between 1941 and 1946. Gainfully occupied females, on the other hand, increased steadily throughout the 45-year period between 1901 and 1946, numbering 11,568 and 143,474, respectively, at the two census dates.

It should be mentioned that gainfully occupied Indians living on reserves, numbering about 9,000, were omitted from the figures for 1946. This fact should be taken into consideration in any comparison of gainfully occupied involving data for 1946.

Relative Size of the Gainfully Occupied, 1911-1946. — Table II, showing the gainfully occupied as a percentage of the population 14 years of age and over, reveals a definite trend in the relative size of the gainfully occupied population in the Prairie Provinces between 1911 and 1946. Figures in this table indicate that although over 90 per cent of the male population 14 years of age and over, was gainfully occupied in 1911 a steady decline occurred in this percentage ratio so that by 1946 only slightly over 81 per cent of the male population was following gainful occupations in this area. The addition of gainfully occupied male Indians living on reserves, however, to the 1946 Census figure to bring it on a comparable basis with figures for previous censuses would have given 82 per cent as the approximate relative size of the gainfully occupied male population to the male population 14 years of age and over in the Prairie Provinces for 1946. This would then indicate a decline of approximately 8 per cent in the gainfully occu-

Il convient de remarquer que l'accroissement numérique de la population active, en ce qui concerne l'emploi civil, a probablement cessé peu de temps après le début de la seconde guerre mondiale et diminué ensuite jusqu'à ce que, à la fin de celle-ci, la démobilisation des forces armées déversât dans la main-d'oeuvre civile un nombre supplémentaire d'hommes. En dépit cependant de l'augmentation du nombre de personnes disponibles pour des emplois civils à la suite de la démobilisation, le nombre de celles qui, lors du recensement de 1946, ont déclaré un emploi civil rémunéré dans les provinces des Prairies était plus bas qu'au 2 juin 1941.

La norme d'augmentation et de diminution de la population active totale, dans les provinces des Prairies, y compris les membres des forces armées, n'est pas la même pour les deux sexes. Les femmes actives augmentent à rythme plus rapide entre 1901 et 1941 que les hommes. De surcroît, tandis que le nombre de femmes actives continue d'augmenter entre 1941 et 1946, celui des hommes diminue plutôt vivement. Ainsi, tandis que la population masculine active de cette région passe de 122,684 en 1901 à 809,318 en 1941, augmentation de six fois et demie, elle tombe à 749,395, diminution de 7.4 pour cent, entre 1941 et 1946. D'autre part, la population féminine active augmente constamment durant toute la période de 45 ans (1901-1946). Elle s'établit à 11,568 et 143,474 respectivement aux deux dates de recensement.

Il convient de mentionner que les Indiens des réserves qui occupent des emplois rémunérés, au nombre de 9,000, ont été omis des chiffres de 1946. Il faut tenir compte de ce détail dans toute comparaison relative à la population active qui porte sur les chiffres de 1946.

Importance numérique relative de la population active, 1911-1946. — Le tableau II, qui donne la population active en pourcentage de la population de 14 ans et plus, révèle une tendance nette dans l'importance numérique relative de la population active des provinces des Prairies entre 1911 et 1946. Les chiffres de ce tableau indiquent que bien que plus de 90 pour cent de la population masculine de 14 ans et plus soit active en 1911, ce pourcentage diminue graduellement pour toucher en 1946 un peu plus de 81 pour cent seulement de la population masculine active dans cette région. Toutefois, en ajoutant aux chiffres du recensement de 1946 les Indiens occupant des emplois rémunérés, afin de pouvoir les comparer à ceux des recensements antérieurs, l'importance numérique relative de la population masculine active serait approximativement de 82 pour cent de la population masculine de 14 ans et plus dans les provinces des Prairies en 1946. Cela indiquerait une diminution de 8 pour cent parmi la population masculine active en pourcentage de ce secteur d'âge pied males as a percentage of this age sector of the male population in the 35-year period between 1911 and 1946.

The gradually changing factors which have contributed to the downward trend in the ratio of gainfully occupied males to the male population 14 years of age and over were undoubtedly numerous and complex. Nevertheless, available statistical data show that some of the more important and obvious of these changing factors were: the age structure of the population, retirement age of gainful workers, age of entry into gainful employment, the ratio of rural to urban population, the ratio of immigrant to non-immigrant population, the characteristics of in- and out-migrants, etc.

Gainfully occupied females, on the other hand, as a percentage of the female population 14 years of age and over showed an almost unbroken steady rise between 1911 and 1946. The only exception to this rising trend occurred during the period between 1931 and 1936 when a slight decline in the relative growth was recorded. It is evident that such factors as the ratio of rural to urban population, the ratio of immigrant to non-immigrant population, etc., which tended to reduce the size of the gainfully occupied males relative to the male population 14 years of age and over, did in fact have the opposite effect in so far as the females were concerned. In addition, other factors which probably influenced an upward trend in the relative size of the gainfully occupied females were the growth of non-agricultural industries in the Prairie Provinces, desire for economic independence, legislation with respect to minimum wages and working conditions, mechanization of many operations which formerly required considerable physical effort, etc.

Functional Distribution of the Population 14 Years of Age and Over, 1946. — Table III shows the functional distribution of the population 14 years of age and over in the Prairie Provinces at the time of the 1946 Census. In other words, it classifies this sector of the population, other than Indians on reserves, as gainfully occupied and not gainfully occupied. The "Gainfully occupied" or economically active category, consisting of 749,395 males and 143,474 females, represents the group of persons who were de la population masculine au cours de la période de 35 ans de 1911 à 1946.

Les facteurs évolutifs qui ont contribué à cette tendance à la baisse de la proportion d'hommes actifs par rapport à la population masculine de 14 ans et plus sont sans nul doute nombreux et complexes. Toutefois, les données statistiques disponibles révèlent que certains de ces facteurs les plus importants et les plus évidents sont: la structure d'âge de la population, l'âge de la retraite des travailleurs rémunérés, l'âge de leur entrée dans la main-d'oeuvre rémunérée, la proportion de la population rurale par rapport à la population urbaine, la proportion de la population immigrée par rapport à la population non immigrée, les caractéristiques des immigrants et des émigrés, etc.

La population féminine active, d'autre part, exprimée en pourcentage de la population féminine de 14 ans et plus, augmente graduellement et à peu près sans interruption entre 1911 et 1946. La seule exception à cette tendance ascendante a surgi entre 1931 et 1936; l'augmentation relative fléchit alors légèrement. Il est évident que des facteurs tels que la proportion de la population rurale par rapport à la population urbaine, la proportion de la population immigrée par rapport à la population non immigrée, etc., qui tendent à diminuer l'importance numérique de la population masculine active par rapport à la population masculine de 14 ans et plus, ont eu, de fait, un effet opposé dans le cas de la population féminine. De plus, l'expansion des industries non agricoles dans les provinces des Prairies, l'aspiration à l'indépendance économique, les lois relatives aux salaires minimums et aux conditions de travail, la mécanisation de nombreux travaux qui autrefois exigeaient des efforts physiques considérables, etc., sont autant d'autres facteurs qui ont favorisé la tendance ascendante de l'importance numérique de la population féminine active.

Répartition fonctionnelle de la population de 14 ans et plus, 1946. — Le tableau III donne la répartition fonctionnelle de la population de 14 ans et plus dans les provinces des Prairies au moment du recensement de 1946. En d'autres termes, il classe ce secteur de la population, moins les Indiens des réserves, selon qu'il est actif ou inactif. La "population active" ou catégorie active au point de vue économique, composée de 749,395 hommes et 143,474 femmes, représente le groupe de personnes qui contribuent directement à la pro contributing directly to the production of goods and services at the time of the Census. This category is further subdivided according to industrial status in this table. The "Not gainfully occupied" or economically inactive population, numbering 161,384 males and 665,239 females, includes a variety of functional classes. Those persons 14 years of age and over, seeking their first employment, of whom there were 2,396 males and 4,461 females, might be considered as the immediate source of gainful workers while most of the students, 85,512 males and 78,963 females, a number of those with no occupation and not seeking employment, 3,313 males and 52,776 females, and some of the 521,298 homemakers represent the potential source of gainful workers. The size of the potential workers is difficult to measure, particularly from the limited data in this table, since it does not indicate, for instance, their economic independence, the degree of their responsibility for the care of family members, etc. Male and female inmates of institutions constituted only 1.2 per cent of the male and 0.8 per cent of the female population 14 years of age and over, respectively, in the Prairie Provinces at the time of the 1946 Census and are, for the most part, neither an immediate nor a potential source of gainful workers. Persons retired from gainful employment, numbering 59,160 males and 1,283 females, had already contributed their share to the production of goods and services and were living on pensions, savings, and other means. Finally 12,285 males and 11,157 female Indians, 14 years of age and over, living on reserves at that time are shown separately and include gainfully occupied as well as the various functional classes of the not gainfully occupied population shown in this table.

Gainfully Occupied by Age, 1946. — Table IV, showing the gainfully occupied as a percentage of the population in each age group, presents data in substantiation of the statement in a preceding section which was to the effect that a changing age structure of the population is one of the determining factors of the relative size of the gainfully occupied. Figures in this table indicate that participation in gainful employment varies widely at each age level of the population. This fact not only affects or limits the present relative size of the economically active population but, barring any large movements of the population, also plays a vital part in determining its relative size for some future time.

According to the 1946 Census of the Prairie Provinces, only 3.2 per cent of the male population 14 years of age duction de biens et de services au moment du recensement. Cette catégorie est de plus subdivisée selon la situation industrielle. La "population inactive" ou catégorie inactive au point de vue économique, composée de 161,384 hommes et 665,239 femmes, comprend une variété de classes fonctionnelles. Les personnes, âgées de 14 ans et plus, qui sont à la recherche de leur premier emploi et qui comptent 2,396 hommes et 4,461 femmes, peuvent être considérées comme la source immédiate de travailleurs rémunérés, tandis que la plupart des étudiants (85,512 du sexe masculin et 78,963 du sexe féminin), un certain nombre de ceux qui n'ont et ne cherchent pas d'emploi (3,313 hommes et 52,776 femmes) et une partie des 521,298 maîtresses de maison représentent la source potentielle de travailleurs rémunérés. Il est difficile d'évaluer l'importance numérique des travailleurs potentiels, surtout d'après les données limitées de ce tableau, parce que rien n'indique, par exemple, leur indépendance économique, le degré de leur responsabilité en ce qui concerne l'entretien des membres de la famille, etc. Les pensionnaires, hommes et femmes, des institutions ne représentent respectivement que 1.2 et 0.8 pour cent de la population masculine et féminine de 14 ans et plus dans les provinces des Prairies lors du recensement de 1946. Ils ne sont, en majeure partie, ni une source immédiate, ni une source potentielle de travailleurs rémunérés. Les personnes retirées de l'emploi rémunéré, au nombre de 59,160 hommes et 1,283 femmes, ont déjà apporté leur part à la production de biens et de services et vivent maintenant de leurs pensions, de leurs épargnes ou d'après d'autres moyens. Enfin, 12,285 Indiens et 11,157 Indiennes des réserves, âgés de 14 ans et plus, sont indiqués séparément et comprennent les personnes actives aussi bien que les diverses classes fonctionnelles de la population inactive donnée dans le tableau.

Population active selon l'âge, 1946. — Le tableau IV, qui donne la population active en pourcentage de la population de chaque groupe d'âge, contient des chiffres qui viennent appuyer l'énoncé d'une section précédente à savoir qu'un changement dans la structure d'âge de la population est l'un des facteurs déterminants de l'importance numérique relative de la population active. Les chiffres du tableau indiquent que la participation à l'emploi rémunéré varie sensiblement à chaque catégorie d'âge de la population. Ce fait, non seulement modifie ou limite l'importance numérique relative actuelle de la population économiquement active mais, en dehors de tout mouvement marqué de la population, joue un rôle essentiel dans la détermination de son importance numérique relative pour l'avenir.

D'après le recensement des provinces des Prairies en 1946, 3.2 pour cent seulement de la population masculine de in this region reported gainful occupations. At each age level thereafter, however, the percentage of those in gainful employment increased sharply until almost total participation in gainful employment was reached at about 30 years of age. Approximately 97 per cent of the male population 30 to 50 years of age reported gainful occupations at that time. The small number of males in this age category excluded from the gainfully occupied were, for the most part, persons incapacitated to do work and inmates in institutions. The percentage of males economically active at each age level over 50 years declined as a result of retirement and other causes until only 29.4 per cent of those 70 years of age and over were gainfully occupied in the Prairie Provinces at the time of the 1946 Census.

With respect to females, a relatively higher proportion of them in the age group 18 to 19 and 20 to 24 years reported gainful occupations in the Prairie Provinces at June 1, 1946, than for any other age group. Approximately 40 per cent of the females in these two age categories were gainfully occupied at that time, the next highest being 18.5 per cent for those between 25 and 34 years of age. Although females in age groups other than those just mentioned added substantial numbers to the gainfully occupied, their importance relative to the female population at any age level was in no case much in excess of 10 per cent.

Gainfully Occupied by Occupation Group, 1946. — The gainfully occupied population, 14 years of age and over, in the Prairie Provinces at the time of the 1946 Census is classified in Table V according to occupation group and sex. This table shows that 358,855 males, representing 47.9 per cent of the total gainfully occupied males, were engaged in agricultural occupations while another 17,863 or 2.4 per cent were engaged in fishing, logging, mining, and other primary occupations. Thus approximately one-half of the gainfully occupied males in this region were found in primary occupations at the time of the 1946 Census. Other important occupation groups for male workers, in order of importance, were manufacturing, proprietary and 14 ans et plus dans cette région déclare des emplois rémunérés. Toutefois, dans la suite, le pourcentage de ceux qui ont des emplois rémunérés, à chaque échelon d'âge, augmente vivement jusqu'à atteindre presque, aux environs de 30 ans, une participation intégrale à l'emploi rémunéré. Environ 97 pour cent de la population masculine de 30 à 50 ans déclare des emplois rémunérés à cette date. Le faible nombre d'hommes dans cette catégorie d'âge qui n'ont pas d'emploi rémunéré se compose en majeure partie de personnes incapables de travailler ou de pensionnaires d'institutions. Le pourcentage d'hommes économiquement actifs dans chaque catégorie d'âge au-dessus de 50 ans fléchit à cause de la retraite ou pour d'autres raisons jusqu'à ce que 29.4 pour cent seulement de ceux qui sont âgés de 70 ans et plus restent parmi la population active des provinces des Prairies au moment du recensement de 1946.

Chez les femmes, une proportion relativement plus élevée dans le groupe de 18-19 ans et de 20-24 ans que dans tout autre groupe d'âge déclare des emplois rémunérés dans les provinces des Prairies, le 1er juin 1946. Environ 40 pour cent des femmes dans ces deux catégories ont des emplois rémunérés à cette date. Vient ensuite le groupe de 25-34 ans, avec 18.5 pour cent. Bien que les femmes qui font partie d'autres groupes que ceux qui viennent d'être mentionnés viennent ajouter sensiblement à la population féminine active, leur importance relative en fonction de la population féminine à tout échelon d'âge ne dépasse jamais 10 pour cent.

Population active selon le groupe d'occupations, 1946. — La population active de 14 ans et plus dans les provinces des Prairies lors du recensement de 1946 est classée au tableau V selon le groupe d'occupations et selon le sexe. Ce tableau révèle que 358,855 hommes, qui représentent 47.9 pour cent de toute la population masculine active, sont engagés dans des emplois agricoles, tandis que 17,863 ou 2.4 pour cent font la pêche, l'abatage du bois, travaillent dans les mines ou ont d'autres emplois primaires. Ainsi, la moitié environ de la population masculine active dans cette région se trouve dans les occupations primaires à la date du recensement de 1946. Les autres groupes d'occupations importants pour les hommes sont, par ordre d'importance: les manufac-managerial, protective (including members of the Armed Forces), and transportation, accounting for 7.5, 6.5, 6.2 and 6.2 per cent, respectively, of the gainfully occupied males.

Females, on the other hand, were concentrated in personal service (chiefly as household workers), clerical, professional (mainly as school teachers and nurses), and commercial occupations (principally as sales clerks in stores). The gainfully occupied females in these occupation groups accounted for 25.0, 24.8, 16.6, and 10.1 per cent, respectively, of the total gainfully occupied females in the Prairie Provinces at the census date, June 1, 1946.

Gainfully Occupied by Industry Group, 1946. — Table VI gives a picture of the industrial attachment of the gainfully occupied population in the Prairie Provinces as at June 1, 1946, and so indicates the type of industrial structure upon which the whole economy in this area is based. There is nothing new in pointing out again that 358,097 or 47.8 per cent of the gainfully occupied males were engaged in the agricultural industry but it is interesting to note that such non-agricultural industries as have developed in the Prairie Provinces are in fact dependent upon an agricultural economy as contrasted with one which is basically dependent upon the production of manufactured goods. This is evident from the fact that manufacturing industries provided gainful employment for only 10.0 per cent of the gainfully occupied male and 9.1 per cent of the gainfully occupied female population in the Prairie Provinces at the time of the 1946 Census. Over 25 per cent of the male workers, on the other hand, were equally represented in such industry groups as transportation, storage and communication (8.3 per cent), trade (8.8 per cent); and service, exclusive of defense services (8.7 per cent). Nearly three-quarters of the gainfully occupied females were concentrated in the latter two industry categories, i.e., 18.4 per cent in trade and 54.6 per cent in service, exclusive of defense services.

tures, propriétaires et administrateurs, sécurité publique (y compris les membres des forces armées), et les transports, qui représentent, respectivement, 7.5, 6.5, 6.2 et 6.2 pour cent de la population masculine active.

Les femmes, d'autre part, sont concentrées dans les services personnels (principalement comme servantes) et dans les occupations de bureau, professionnelles (surtout comme institutrices et infirmières), et commerciales (surtout comme vendeuses dans les magasins). Les femmes actives dans ces groupes d'occupations représentent respectivement 25.0, 24.8, 16.6 et 10.1 pour cent de la population féminine active dans les provinces des Prairies à la date du recensement, le 1er juin 1946.

Population active selon le groupe d'industries, 1946. — Le tableau VI donne un aperçu de la situation industrielle de la population active des provinces des Prairies le 1er juin 1946. Il indique de cette façon le genre de structure industrielle sur laquelle repose l'économie entière de cette région. On sait que 358,097 ou 47.8 pour cent de la population masculine active est engagée dans l'industrie agricole. Il est intéressant cependant de remarquer que les industries non agricoles qui se sont installées dans les provinces des Prairies dépendent de fait d'une économie agricole plutôt que d'une économie qui reposerait essentiellement sur la production de biens fabriqués. Ce fait ressort de ce que les industries manufacturières ne procurent un emploi lucratif qu'à 10.0 pour cent de la population masculine active et 9.1 pour cent de la population féminine active des provinces des Prairies au moment du recensement de 1946. Plus de 25 pour cent des travailleurs du sexe masculin d'autre part sont également représentés dans des groupes d'industries tels que les transports, l'entreposage et les communications (8.3 pour cent, le commerce (8.8 pour cent), et les services, à l'exclusion des services de défense, (8.7 pour cent). Près des trois quarts des femmes actives sont concentrées dans les deux dernières catégories d'industries, soit 18.4 pour cent dans le commerce et 54.6 pour cent dans les services, en dehors des services de défense.

Gainfully Occupied by Industrial Status, 1946. — Figures in Table VII reflect the family type of business in the Prairie Provinces. This table shows that 317,450 or 42.3 per cent of the gainfully occupied males in this region were operating a business. Of this number, 63,035 or 8.4 per cent, consisting of both large and small entrepreneurs, employed one or more wage-earners while the other 254,415 or 33.9 per cent operated relatively small family enterprises without the assistance of paid workers. In addition, 69,756 or 9.3 per cent of the gainfully occupied males worked for no pay, chiefly on farms operated by the family head. Thus, only 362,189, i.e., less than 50 per cent of the gainfully occupied male workers in the Prairie Provinces were reported as wage-earners at the time of the 1946 Census.

Gainfully occupied females, of course, did not fall into an industrial status pattern similar to that of the male workers. Table VII shows that 118,991 or 82.9 per cent of the gainfully occupied females in the Prairie Provinces on June 1, 1946, were reported as wage-earners. Most of those reported as employers or as working on own account were operating lodging houses or farms while the "no pay" workers were chiefly nuns, nurses-in-training, school teachers (separate schools), and housekeepers and other household workers.

The relatively large number of males in the entrepreneurial and no pay categories in the Prairie Provinces is due chiefly to the fact that nearly 50 per cent of the gainfully occupied male population is engaged in agricultural activity. Figures in Table VII indicate that the agricultural industry, in so far as males are concerned, accounted for over two-thirds of the employers, four-fifths of the own accounts, and 96 per cent of the no pay workers. A considerable proportion of the gainfully occupied females in the Prairie Provinces reporting an employer and own account industrial status was also found in agriculture at the time of the 1946 Census.

Gainfully Occupied by Birthplace, 1946. — Birthplace data given in Table VIII indicate that the gainfully occupied in the Prairie Provinces no longer consists chiefly of an immigrant population. At the time of the 1946 Census, 471,874 or 63.0 per cent of the gainfully occupied males and 115,813 or 80.7 per cent of the gainfully occupied females were born in Canada, most of whom were in fact born in the Prairie Provinces. Of the gainfully occupied males born outside of Canada and residing in the Prairie Provinces at June 1, 1946, 92,413 were born in the British Isles, 126,394 in Europe, and 53,728 in the United Population active selon la situation industrielle, 1946. — Les chiffres du tableau VII reflètent le caractère familial de l'entreprise dans les provinces des Prairies. On y voit que 317,450 personnes du sexe masculin ou 42.3 pour cent de la population masculine active de la région sont dans les affaires. Sur ce nombre, 63,035 ou 8.4 pour cent, représentant aussi bien les petits comme les gros entrepreneurs, emploient un ou plusieurs employés à gages tandis que les 254,415 ou 33.9 pour cent qui restent exploitent des entreprises familiales relativement peu considérables sans l'aide d'employés rémunérés. En outre, 69,756 personnes, ou 9.3 pour cent de la population masculine active, travaillent sans rémunération, principalement sur les fermes exploitées par le chef de famille. Ainsi, 362,189 personnes seulement, soit moins de 50 pour cent de la population masculine active des provinces des Prairies, sont déclarées comme travaillant à salaire ou à gages au moment du recensement de 1946.

Les femmes actives ne tombent pas, naturellement, dans une classe industrielle semblable à celle des hommes. Le tableau VII fait voir que 118,991 femmes, ou 82.9 pour cent de la population féminine active des provinces des Prairies le 1er juin 1946, déclarent travailler à salaire ou à gages. La plupart de celles qui se déclarent "employeurs" ou qui travaillent à leur compte exploitent des maisons de logement ou des fermes tandis que celles qui travaillent sans rémunération sont surtout des religieuses, des élèves-infirmières, des institutrices (écoles séparées), des ménagères et autres employées aux travaux de maison.

Le nombre d'hommes relativement élevé dans l'entreprise et dans la catégorie de travailleurs non rémunérés dans les provinces des Prairies est dû principalement au fait que près de 50 pour cent de la population masculine active est engagée dans l'agriculture. Les chiffres du tableau VII révèlent que l'industrie agricole, en ce qui concerne les hommes, absorbe plus des deux tiers des employeurs, les quatre-cinquièmes des travailleurs à leur compte et 96 pour cent des travailleurs non rémunérés. Une proportion élevée de la population féminine active des provinces des Prairies qui déclare l'occupation d'"employeur" ou qui travaille à son compte se trouve aussi dans l'agriculture au moment du recensement en 1946.

Population active selon le lieu de naissance, 1946. — Les chiffres sur le lieu de naissance, donnés au tableau VIII, indiquent que la population active des provinces des Prairies ne se compose plus principalement d'immigrés. Lors du recensement de 1946, 471,874 hommes, ou 63.0 pour cent de la population masculine active, et 115,813 femmes, ou 80.7 pour cent de la population féminine active, sont nés au Canada, la plupart, de fait, dans les provinces des Prairies. Sur les hommes actifs nés en dehors du Canada et demeurant dans les provinces des Prairies le 1er juin 1946, 92,413 sont nés dans les îles Britanniques, 126,394 en Europe et 53,728 aux États-Unis, States, accounting for slightly over one-third of the total gainfully occupied males at that date. Gainfully occupied females born in the British Isles, Europe, and the United States, on the other hand, numbered only 10,782, 10,207, and 6,516 respectively, and thus represented slightly less than 20 per cent of the total gainfully occupied females in the Prairie Provinces at the 1946 Census date.

It should be mentioned, in passing, that the composition of the gainfully occupied, with respect to place of birth, has changed considerably in this region in the quarter of a century between 1921 and 1946. Gainfully occupied data from the 1921 and 1946 Censuses show that the ratio of Canadian-born to non-Canadian-born males has been reversed in the 25-year period. Thus while at the time of the 1921 Census 36.8 per cent of the gainfully occupied males were Canadian born as compared with 63.2 per cent born elsewhere, in 1946 the corresponding figures were 63.0 per cent and 37.0 per cent, respectively. For gainfully occupied females, the ratio of Canadian born to non-Canadian born was 49.5 to 50.5 in 1921 and 80.7 to 19.3 in 1946.

ce qui donne en peu plus d'un tiers de toute la population masculine active à cette date. D'autre part, les femmes actives nées dans les îles Britanniques, en Europe et aux Etats-Unis ne sont respectivement que de 10,782, 10,207 et 6,516. Elles représentent donc un peu moins de 20 pour cent de toute la population féminine active des provinces des Prairies à la date du recensement de 1946.

Il faut mentionner, en passant, que la composition de la population active, en ce qui concerne le lieu de naissance, a changé sensiblement dans cette région au cours du quart de siècle de 1921 à 1946. Les données des recensements de 1921 et de 1946 sur la population active révèlent que la proportion d'hommes nés au Canada par rapport à ceux qui sont nés à l'étranger a changé du tout au tout au cours de la période de 25 ans. Alors qu'au recensement de 1921, 36.8 pour cent de la population masculine active était née au Canada comparativement à 63.2 pour cent ailleurs, en 1946, les chiffres correspondants sont respectivement de 63.0 et 37.0 pour cent. Chez la population féminine active, les proportions de femmes nées au Canada et de celles qui sont nées ailleurs, sont de 49.5 et 50.5 pour cent en 1921 et 80.7 et 19.3 pour cent en 1946.

B. EARNINGS AND EMPLOYMENT OF WAGE-EARNERS

Regional Variation in Earnings and Employment, 1946.— According to results of the 1946 Census of the Prairie Provinces, 362,189 males and 118,991 females, representing 48.3 and 82.9 per cent, respectively, of the total gainfully occupied in this region, were reported as wage-earners, i.e., as working on a wage, salary, commission or piece-rate basis. Average earnings of male wage-earners in the Prairie Provinces for the 12 months prior to the census date were $1,382 while those for females were $809. The average period of employment for the 12 month interval was almost of equal duration for both sexes, i.e., 45.64 weeks for male and 44.43 weeks for female wage-earners. Average earnings for each week of employment during the census year was $30.28 for male and $18.21 for female wage-earners.

B. GAIN ET EMPLOI DES EMPLOYÉS À GAGES

Variations régionales du gain et de l'emploi, 1946. — D'après les résultats du recensement des provinces des Prairies en 1946, 362,189 hommes et 118,991 femmes, qui représentent respectivement 48.3 et 82.9 pour cent de la population active totale de la région, sont déclarés comme employés à gages, c'est-à-dire qu'ils travaillent moyennant des gages ou un salaire, à commission ou à la pièce. Le gain moyen des employés à gages dans les provinces des Prairies au cours des 12 mois qui précèdent la date du recensement est de $1,382 tandis que celui des femmes est de $809. La période moyenne d'emploi dans l'intervalle de ces douze mois est à peu près d'égale durée chez les hommes et les femmes, soit 45.64 semaines chez les hommes et 44.43 chez les femmes. Le gain moyen pour chaque semaine d'emploi durant l'année de recensement est de $30.28 chez les hommes et $18.21 chez les femmes.

Considerable variation in earnings and, to some extent, in employment was reported for wage-earners depending upon whether they resided in rural farm, rural non-farm or urban areas. Male wage-earners in urban centres, representing approximately two-thirds of the total male wage-earners in the Prairie Provinces at the census date, received average earnings of $32.93 for each week employed while those residing in rural non-farm and rural farm areas received average earnings per week of employment amounting to $29.95 and $15.88, respectively. Corresponding figures for female wage-earners in these areas of the Prairie Provinces were $19.04 for those in urban centres, $17.66 in rural non-farm areas and $13.73 in rural farm areas.

Le gain et, dans une certaine mesure, l'emploi varient sensiblement selon que les employés à gages habitent dans des régions rurales agricoles, rurales non agricoles ou urbaines. Les hommes à gages dans les centres urbains, qui représentent environ les deux tiers de toute la population masculine à gages dans les provinces des Prairies au moment du recensement, gagnent en moyenne $32.93 par semaine, tandis que ceux qui habitent dans les régions rurales non agricoles et rurales agricoles gagnent respectivement en moyenne $29.95 et $15.88 par semaine d'emploi. Les chiffres correspondants chez les femmes dans ces régions des provinces des Prairies sont de $19.04 dans les centres urbains, $17.66 dans les régions rurales non agricoles et $13.73 dans les régions rurales agricoles.

Distribution of Wage-Earners by Earnings, 1946. — Table X classifies wage-earners by earnings groups and sex according to weeks of employment and shows, for each earnings interval, the average earnings and average weeks of employment. The information in this table indicates that the over-all average earnings of wage-earners for the Prairie Provinces as a whole is affected to a considerable extent by part-time employment. Male wage-earners reporting earnings of less than $450 for the 12 months prior to June 1, 1946, representing 10.3 per cent of the total male wage-earners with stated earnings, worked an average of 23 weeks while female wage-earners in this earnings range, accounting for 23.6 per cent of those with stated earnings, averaged 28.3 weeks of employment. Male and female wage-earners reporting earnings of $450 to $1,449 and $450 to $949, respectively, worked considerably longer periods of time but, nevertheless, somewhat less than a full year. Relatively few males with earnings of $1,450 or over and females with earnings of $950 or over worked less than a full year. The data in this table show that roughly 25 per cent of the male and female wage-earners reporting less than the average earnings for the Prairie Provinces as a whole worked Répartition des employés à gages selon le gain, 1946. — Dans le tableau X, les employés à gages sont classés par groupes de gain et selon le sexe d'après les semaines d'emploi. Le tableau donne en outre, pour chaque catégorie de gain, le gain moyen et la moyenne de semaines d'emploi. Les renseignements contenus dans le tableau révèlent que le gain général moyen des employés à gages dans les provinces des Prairies prises dans leur ensemble, est très sensible à l'emploi à temps discontinu. Les hommes à gages qui déclarent un gain de moins de $450 au cours des 12 mois qui précèdent le 1er juin 1946, et qui représentent 10.3 pour cent de toute la population masculine à gages dont le gain est déclaré, ont travaillé une moyenne de 23 semaines. Chez les femmes de la même catégorie de gain, qui représentent 23.6 pour cent de celles dont le gain est déclaré, la moyenne des semaines d'emploi est de 28.3. Les hommes et les femmes employés à gages qui déclarent respectivement un gain de $450 à $1,449 et de $450 à $949, ont travaillé durant des périodes sensiblement plus longues mais cependant, moins qu'une année entière. Relativement peu d'hommes qui gagnent $1,450 ou plus et de femmes qui gagnent $950 ou plus ont travaillé moins d'une année entière. Les données de ce tableau font voir que 25 pour cent environ des hommes et des femmes employés à gages qui déclarent moins que le gain moyen des provinces des Prairies prises dans leur ensemble ont travaillé moins d'une année entière et qu'une proportion élevée de ces personnes ont travaillé moins de six mois.

showing a significant number of wage-earners is much narrower than for males, ranging from $387 for those in agricultural occupations to $1,222 for employees in proprietary and managerial occupations.

It should be pointed out that low average earnings for males in agriculture, fishing, hunting, trapping, and logging occupations, and for females in personal service occupations, as compared with other occupations, is due, at least in part, to the shorter period of employment involved and to the fact that these employees receive, for the most part, room and/or board in addition to money payments as compensation for their work.

des occupations de groupes divers qui représentent un nombre important d'employées à gages est beaucoup moins sensible que chez les hommes. Le gain moyen y varie de $387 dans les occupations agricoles à $1,222 dans celles de propriétaire et d'administrateur.

Il convient de remarquer que la basse moyenne du gain chez les hommes dans l'agriculture, la pêche, la chasse, le piégeage et l'abatage du bois et, chez les femmes, dans les services personnels, comparativement aux autres occupations, est due, en partie du moins, à la période plus courte d'emploi et au fait que ces employés reçoivent, en majeure partie, la chambre et la pension en plus de leur salaire en argent en rétribution de leur travail.

Earnings and Employment by Industry Group, 1946. — An examination of earnings in Table XII shows that, although industry reflects variation in earnings, the range between low and high average earnings is less pronounced than in the case of occupations. Occupation variation in average earnings is due, among other things, to the fact that earnings normally bear a direct relationship to degree of skill and ability demanded of wage-earners and that degree of skill and ability does enter into an occupation classification. By the same token, therefore, the interval between low and high average earnings must be narrower industrially than occupationally since most industries require wage-earners from each level of skill. However, in spite of this levelling off tendency in industrial average earnings, there are some wide differences, as shown by Table XII, in average earnings from industry

Gain et emploi par groupes d'industries, 1946. — On voit d'après le gain indiqué au tableau XII que, bien que dans l'industrie le gain soit variable, l'écart entre le gain minimum moyen et le gain maximum moyen est moins prononcé que dans le cas des occupations. La variation dans le gain moyen selon l'occupation est due, entre autres choses, au fait que le gain, normalement, est en rapport étroit avec le degré de compétence et d'habileté exigé des employés à gages et que ce degré de compétence et d'habileté entre en ligne de compte dans une classification des occupations. En conséquence, l'écart entre la basse et la haute moyenne de gain doit être en outre plus étroit au point de vue industriel qu'au point de vue occupationnel parce que la plupart des industries exigent des employés à gages à chaque échelon de compétence. Toutefois, en dépit de cette égalisation de la tendance du gain moyen dans l'industrie, il existe des différences to industry. This table shows that average earnings for male wage-earners in the Prairie Provinces at the time of the 1946 Census ranged from $583 in the agricultural industry to $2,192 in finance and insurance industries, while for females the low and high average earnings, exclusive of those in such industries as fishing, mining, etc., which generally provide employment for relatively few female wage-earners, were $462 in personal service and $1,033 in transportation, respectively.

The reason for only a partial levelling off in industrial average earnings is due to the fact that varying proportions of executive, professional, and other skilled as well as semi-skilled and unskilled workers are required to adequately man each type of industry. Thus, while persons employed in primary industries are predominantly manual workers, a relatively high proportion of those in finance, insurance, business service, etc., are officials, agents, accountants, and other workers with administrative and technical ability. In addition, differences in earnings, stemming from working conditions, local demand and supply of labour, etc., are evident from industry to industry even for the same occupation.

marquées, ainsi que l'indique le tableau XII, dans le gain moyen d'une industrie à l'autre. Ce tableau révèle que le gain moyen des hommes à gages dans les provinces des Prairies lors du recensement de 1946 varie de $583 dans l'industrie agricole à $2,192 dans la finance et l'assurance, tandis que chez les femmes, la moyenne minimum et la moyenne maximum du gain, excepté dans les industries de la pêche, des mines, etc., qui, en général, procurent relativement moins d'emploi aux femmes, est respectivement de $462 dans les services personnels et $1,033 dans les transports.

La raison d'une égalisation partielle seulement du gain moyen dans les industries est attribué au fait que des proportions variables d'administrateurs, de professionnels, et d'ouvriers qualifiés, semi-qualifiés et non qualifiés sont exigées pour assurer un personnel satisfaisant dans chaque genre d'industrie. Ainsi, alors que les personnes employées dans les industries primaires sont en majeure partie des travailleurs manuels, une proportion relativement élevée de celles qui sont engagées dans la finance, l'assurance, le service commercial, etc., sont des directeurs, des agents, des comptables et autres travailleurs disposant d'une compétence administrative et technique. En outre, les différences de gain nées des conditions de travail, de la demande locale et des disponibilités en main-d'oeuvre, etc., se révèlent d'une industrie à l'autre même pour la même occupation.

Unemployment on May 31, 1946. — Due to the high level of economic activity at the time of the 1946 Census of the Prairie Provinces, relatively few wage-earners were then reported as unemployed. In fact, only 19,469 male and 3,141 female wage-earners indicated that they had "no job" on May 31, 1946, while an additional 2,288 male and 542 female wage-earners stated that they were Chômage le 31 mai 1946. — En raison de l'activité économique intense lors du recensement des provinces des Prairies en 1946, relativement peu d'employés à gages sont déclarés chômeurs. De fait, 19,469 hommes et 3,141 femmes seulement déclarent ne pas avoir d'emploi le 31 mai 1946, tandis que 2,288 hommes et 542 femmes déclarent n'être pas au travail ce jour-là à cause d'un congédiement temporaire. Les pernot at work on that date because of "temporary lay-off". Persons reporting "no job" and "temporary lay-off" might be considered as the unemployed sector of the wage-earner population. These figures, therefore, indicate that only 6.0 per cent of the male and 3.1 per cent of the female wage-earners were unemployed in the Prairie Provinces at the time of the 1946 Census.

In determining the number of unemployed persons at a given date, however, due consideration should be given to young persons who are seeking their first job. For that reason it should be mentioned that, at the time of the 1946 Census, 2,398 males and 4,461 females were reported in the Prairie Provinces as seeking employment for the first time. The addition of these young persons to the unemployed wage-earners would, of course, slightly increase the size of the unemployed category in this region at the census date.

Male wage-earners not at work on May 31, 1946, because of illness and holiday accounted for 1.7 and 1.4 per cent, respectively, of the total male wage-earners, while 1.3 per cent of the female wage-earners reported illness and 1.6 per cent holiday as the cause for not being at work on May 31, 1946. Other causes for not being at work on that date accounted for relatively few of the wage-earners in the Prairie Provinces.

sonnes qui se déclarent sans emploi et en congé temporaire, peuvent être considérées comme le secteur chômage de la population employée à gages. Ces chiffres, en conséquence, indiquent que 6.0 pour cent seulement des hommes et 3.1 pour cent des femmes employés à gages sont en chômage dans les provinces des Prairies au moment du recensement de 1946.

Toutefois, pour déterminer le nombre de chômeurs à une date donnée, il faut tenir compte des jeunes personnes qui sont en quête de leur premier emploi. Pour cette raison faut-il aussi mentionner qu'au moment du recensement de 1946, 2,398 hommes et 4,461 femmes déclarent être en quête de leur premier emploi. Ajouter ces jeunes personnes aux employés à gages en chômage gonflerait naturellement un peu le nombre de chômeurs dans cette région lors du recensement.

Les employés à gages qui ne sont pas au travail le 31 mai 1946 pour des causes de maladie et de vacances représentent respectivement 1.7 et 1.4 pour cent de toute la population masculine employée à gages. Chez les femmes, 1.3 pour cent déclarent la maladie et 1.6 pour cent les vacances comme étant les causes de leur absence du travail le 31 mai 1946. Relativement peu d'employés à gages déclarent d'autres causes d'absence du travail à cette date.
